Skinny Skribbles

Around And About Town

With C. F. SKIRVIN

This is ground hog day, when, according to tradition, he emerges from his winter hibernation, and, if he sees his shadow, retreats to his cavern, which indicates six weeks more of winter weather, believe it or not, and I don't. All-wise thought it was more of a superstition than a fact, but try and get rid of it. I do not care whether it is ground hog or a hog ground. The best you can get out of it is a pork sandwich.

And then a good friend wants to know when and where and how—but not why—I write this column. Well, the ordeal requires such a multiplicity of gyrations, insinuations, and variations, that to detail an explanation wouldn't leave me enough time to write it, if that's any answer.

No more intimate insight into the life of Lincoln has been presented to Santa Ana audiences than that unveiled by Dr. Louis A. Warren, of Fort Wayne, Ind., in three addresses to different audiences Tuesday. He had as substantiating evidence all the accumulated resources of the Lincoln National Life Insurance company, which for many years has assiduously accumulated every particle of historical data about the martyred president. For 129 years America retrospects this great character, and offers it to the world as a safe guide both for personal and national guidance. If I were making up a list of "sixty families" for contributions to contemporary American history, Abraham Lincoln would be the About Ben Adhem of them all.

It may not be unfortunate to own two pairs of shoes, but it is sometimes embarrassing. One day last week prominent oil operator appears at his office and in other familiar business haunts about town to get a lot of quizzical looks, and he couldn't find the answer until he looked down at his feet and noticed that he had on one brown shoe and one black. Now isn't that worth a laugh? For further particulars see Roy Langley.

And it was E. J. Eaton who inquired if I was satisfied with the rainfall, and furnished the additional pleasing information that the precipitation in my ranch section was an inch and one-half. I thought, perhaps, the proximity of the Eaton acreage might have had something to do with E. J. bringing in the good news, more than my habit of discussing rainfall, or lack of it.

Auditor says the new income blanks require a long typewriter carriage in order to accommodate the tabulations. Not for my figures.

Dr. C. J. Ruley's reference to the power of tobacco as a germ assassin was more jocular than serious. A literal acceptance created complications, when the doctor was only "kidding" along. My experience with tobacco was, asters, according to my recollection. I had hardly been introduced when the gastronomic explosion took place. Since that momentous incident I have saved considerable money, and so far beat the germs.

I've got to contact Bob Turner. I can offer him some sympathetic condolences. I've had the experience of looking into the business end of a gun, and it isn't anything to laugh about.

Anyway, the fellow who sold telephone poles for 16 cents apiece was a good salesman. Or did he have a credulous customer?

Whenever I see a group of men in chamber of commerce conferences, I also see other groups which are not in conference, and some of them never will be. Not that they are unable to function, but some of them are not civic minded. Man does not live by bread alone, and he won't get very far selfishly operating an individual business. We are all a part of the community. How much of a part depends upon our individual initiative. When you get an invitation to take part in progressive community projects, tie in and do your part.

State Hits Wright Story

LOVE FLAME TALE SHOCKS L. A. COURT

Slayer Calm Under Prosecution Attacks

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Paul A. Wright underwent a searching cross-examination today as prosecutors tried to blast his contention he slew his wife and his business associate, John Kimmel, because he found them in an unnatural embrace. S. E. Roll, chief of prosecution, tried to ferret from the airport executive's story of the shootings, as related in direct examination, a loophole to fortify the state's charge Wright deliberately planned the slayings.

Wright's version of the tragedy was in the record of the court. He said he brought Kimmel, his operations manager at Union Air terminal, to his Glendale home for a nightcap. They had a round of drinks before the fireplace. Wright, tired, retired for a nap. He was awakened by a "noise" from the piano.

SITTING ON BENCH

"I walked to the doorway separating the bedroom from the living room. I didn't see Evelyn, but I saw Johnny sitting on the bench before the grand piano. I thought she might be on the davenport or in the kitchen. I walked toward the kitchen, turned, and turned again.

"Then I saw Evelyn on the piano bench with Johnny. . . . They were in awful positions. Then Evelyn rose to a sitting position. She put her arms around Kimmel. He put his arms around her. They kissed.

"Then everything inside me just exploded. The next thing I knew I was standing there with a gun in my hand. There was blood, and he was moaning."

CHAPMAN GETS COUNTY JOB

C. H. Chapman, former member of the board of supervisors, today had been appointed by his successors to a $15 a day job as head of the land department of the county flood control district.

Chapman will be in charge of acquisition of hundreds of acres of land which must be secured for the government's $15,000,000 flood control project.

His appointment by four members of the board was over the protest of Supervisor Steele Finley, representing Chapman's old district.

"He was a member of the board," remarked Finley, "when they paid $140,000 for St. Anne's Inn (now the courthouse annex)."

Myrtle The Turtle Captured After Extensive Hunt

Myrtle the Turtle has been captured! Members of the Santa Ana Elks club today were preparing a reception for Myrtle, who will be converted into soup for the annual membership dinner of the organization. Date of the dinner was set for March 15 at a meeting this morning.

Searching parties scoured the South seas for a counterpart of last year's Myrtle, but all relatives of the edible amphibian had moved to the East coast. H. R. Brinkerhoff, in charge of the search, said today. Preparations now are being made to ship Myrtle from an eastern port in a special car, possibly a diner.

After Myrtle has been boiled, handed in whatever fashion turtles are made into soup, approximately 100 Elks who have signed up new members will partake of a breasting menu, which starts with Myrtle and ends with delectable viands from far ends of the earth.

DUKE OF WINDSOR

CHINA PLUGS GAP IN LINE

Defense Lines Slow Japanese Advance

SHANGHAI, (AP)—Chinese reinforcements moved forward by the thousands under heavy shelling today to plug a widening gap in southern defenses of China's life-line corridor.

The long-awaited major engagements on the Tsinpu battlefield north of Nanking apparently was beginning. An estimated half million Chinese and Japanese troops have been massed for the struggle over the corridor, where Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has urged his warriors to yield not a single inch.

Domel (Japanese news agency) correspondents with the Japanese column moving north from Nanking reported it had occupied Pengpu, southern keystone of Chinese positions along the Tientsin-Pukow railway.

Before the new advance, Japanese had captured the towns of Linhaiwaiwan and Mingkwang on the northward march. Japanese pushing south through southern Shantung province toward Suchow apparently were being held back.

Chinese were said to have blown up a bridge across the Hwai south of Pengpu and dug in on the river bank for determined resistance. They had kept the southern defenses of the corridor intact for a month.

Three Sought For Holdup

Daring robbery of the 302 cafe shortly after midnight yesterday morning may have been a three-man job, it developed today as police pressed an investigation of Santa Ana's first holdup of 1938, in which $70 was taken at the point of a gun from a startled bartender.

Two other suspects had entered the case today when Jack Barnett, afternoon bartender at the cafe, described a pair of "suspicious characters" who had been in the cocktail room the afternoon before the robbery occurred.

The men—a small, dark American and a small, young negro—appeared to be inspecting the place "too carefully," Barnett told police last night.

Detective Lieutenant C. W. Wolford is in charge of the case.

Bridges Pictured As Rebel Leader

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Harry Bridges, Pacific coast director of the CIO, was pictured today by W. R. A. Patterson, California Federation of Labor executive, as a fomer of revolution in the United States.

Patterson made the accusation in an affidavit filed in Judge Ruben Schmidt's court, where today Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union asked that Will Hays, Los Angeles attorney, be removed as receiver for the San Pedro of the AFL maritime union, the International Longshoremen's association.

WINDSOR MAY GET GERMAN THRONE

WASHINGTON.—One report about the Duke of Windsor which persists in diplomatic circles is that the Nazi government contemplates making use of his now idle regal talent by offering him an important job—possibly the emperorship of Germany.

The truth of this cannot possibly be checked, but there are some extremely interesting facts behind it which make the report worth tucking away as a future possibility.

One fact is that the military clique now ruling Germany has been looking around for a figurehead to put at the helm of the empire.

Hitler, while still an effective rattle-brain, is now pretty well out of the picture as far as any administrative work is concerned. Even the original founders of the Nazi party, with the exception of Goering and possibly Goebbels, are now impotent. Clear indication of this came the other day when the army suppressed the newspaper of Julius Streicher. It did not matter that Streicher was one of Hitler's closest friends and the No. 3 man in the Nazi party. The army wanted his paper suppressed and it was suppressed.

MILITARY STRATEGY Strategy of the military rulers is to ease Hitler off to his retreat in the Bavarian mountains, make (Continued on Editorial Page)

L. A. AROUSES PUBLIC MORALS

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—The assembly interim committee on public morals through its chairman, Rodney L. Turner of Delano, announced today it would inquire into alleged graft and corruption in Southern California.

The public morals committee will launch its investigation Monday and will be the second assembly committee to make such an inquiry. The assembly coordinating committee last week began its investigation of conditions, focusing its attention on alleged protected vice in Los Angeles and Hollywood.

Turner charged the assembly coordinating committee usurped the functions and authority of the morals committee when it began its investigation.

Britain Launches Sea Maneuvers

SINGAPORE, (AP)—Fast scouting planes sped out to the China sea today to locate the approaching "enemy" warships as a great, mimic battle testing Britain's newly completed naval fortifications began.

Excellent flying conditions favored the defenders of the giant naval base. The maneuvers were to test Singapore's endurance in the event of siege and possible need of reinforcements from European waters.

Groundhog Fails Phantoms Phaking Shadow

Honest, it is all a terrible mistake.

Here it was, Ground Hog day. Everything was set for a fine early spring, with a wisp of cloud covering the sun so the whiskered little guy could pop out of his hole and not see any shadow, meaning it would be sunny from now on.

If the Ground Hog, according to legend, sees his shadow, that's bad. He pops right back into the ground again, and stays there for the rest of the winter while everybody else buttons down the roof. If he doesn't see any shadow, he just stays out and the weather gets balmy, along with people.

CHANCELLOR HITLER

GERMAN WAR HEAD QUILTS

Minister Marries, Resigns Position

BERLIN, (AP)—Marshal Werner von Blomberg, minister of war, handed his resignation to Reichsfuehrer Hitler before going to Capri on his honeymoon, a highly reliable informant disclosed today.

There had been indications the officers' corps of the army was not pleased by marriage of the 59-year-old marshal to Erika Grohn on Jan. 12, and this was followed by the reports he would relinquish his post.

An official announcement will not be made before the end of the week, and may be delayed longer. It will be coupled, a most authoritative informant indicated, with publication of a scheme for conduct of military affairs in the future.

Von Blomberg retains the title of field marshal, there being no retirement for that rank. Field marshals remain active for life. Col. Gen. Werner von Fritsch, commander-in-chief of the reichswehr, who was said to have acted as spokesman for the army in suggesting the field marshal's resignation, has gone on leave and cancelled an invitation to an official dinner at his home this week.

His discharge as chief of the army will follow soon, military circles predict. They contended he never was wholeheartedly behind the Hitler regime and it seemed apparent he was out of the running for war minister.

Paralysis Drive Gets Report

Fred Merker, head of the Orange county committee in charge of the campaign to fight infantile paralysis, announced today that the San Juan Capistrano and Placentia schools are the first reporting a 100 per cent sale of lapel pins.

Carl Hankey is in charge of the San Juan Capistrano committee and Mrs. William Bielefeldt heads the Placentia group.

The train was delayed an hour.

Senate Moves To Clean Radio

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senator Herring (D., Ia.), leader in a drive to "clean up radio broadcasting," said today he had written sponsors of a Sunday night program for a copy of the script used by Boris Karloff, screen villain, January 30.

The Iowa said he believed this denance as any I could submit of the harmful effects of that sort of thing.

1500 BIKE LICENSES Bicycle license distribution reached the 1500 mark in Santa Ana today as a light sprinkle this morning again dampened distribution at the local police station. Saturday has been set as deadline.

TEHACHAPI TICKET THREATENED

Women Warned in Woman Warned in

"Do you know what you are doing? You are purchasing your ticket for Tehachapi."

Sheriff Logan Jackson made that statement to a woman prisoner during questioning in his office, it was revealed today when a 24-page transcript of the conversation was read into superior court records.

Questions were directed at Mrs. Louise Carr, co-defendant with William H. Curtis in a grand theft trial today in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court. Curtis and Mrs. Carr are charged with bilking Mrs. Florence Risk, Tustin widow, out of $700 on New Mexico oil leases. Seven other victims of the couple already have testified.

One witness was 85-year-old Mrs. Ida Smith, Pasadena seamstress, who said Curtis took $10 from her and later got $50 which she borrowed for a lease deal. Thomas J. Finnerty, deputy state real estate commissioner, testified brokers' licenses of the accused pair had been revoked several years ago.

Other witnesses, testifying to conversations with the defendants, included R. H. Sandon, district attorney's investigator, and Deputy Sheriff G. F. McKelvey and Fred Humiston.

Mrs. Carr denied using any other names besides Carr and Powell, but Walter had linked her with a Los Angeles bank account under the name of "Marie Pyne."

WPA STAFF FACES CUT

Disman settled over the personnel of the WPA office in Santa Ana today as Field Representative William Aho from Los Angeles announced the administrative staff here is in for a whittling.

Aho intimated the present administrative force will be reduced to several persons, sufficient to handle principally matters of employment.

Local employees, skeptical a skeleton crew in Santa Ana can not efficiently stand the strain, communicated with the Los Angeles office this morning, where it was learned the adjustment and complaint office of the employment division is to be virtually the only department not affected locally by the cut.

Mrs. Josephine Hearle is supervisor of this department and is assisted by two interviewers, Mrs. Ruth Parks and Mrs. Nell Crawford, a receptionist, Mrs. Mildred Manning, and one stenographer, Mrs. Gladys Munoz.

TRAIN MISSES DYNAMITE

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP)—A Santa Fe passenger train, rounding a curve 15 miles north of here, screamed to a stop 100 feet short of a grade crossing on which a truck was stalled last night.

The train crew, investigating, found the truck loaded with dynamite.

The train was delayed an hour.

Francisco to Free U.S. Tanker

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The state department announced today that the Spanish insurgent general, Francisco Franco, has agreed to release the seized American tanker, Nantucket Chief, as a result of representations made to him by the United States government.

Woman Taken To Hospital After Family Argument

His elderly mother critically injured and still unconscious from a beating he is accused of giving her last night, Raymond Wallace, 25-year-old San Juan Capistrano laborer, faced possible prosecution on felony charges today after being thrown in the county jail on an open charge of drunkenness.

Mrs. Mae Wallace, proprietor of the Wallace auto court at Doheny Park, today was suffering a broken nose, several broken ribs, a fractured arm and serious bruises.

Formal charges against Wallace were being held up today, according to Harold Boyce, San Clemente police officer who made the arrest, until Mrs. Wallace recovered sufficiently to tell her story of the alleged beating in the district attorney's office.

Boyce was called to the Wallace auto court by Chester Willis, brother-in-law of Wallace, who charged he also had been struck and badly bruised when he rushed in to keep Wallace from striking the woman.

Willis told police Wallace and his mother had argued about a Mexican girl he asserted had been going out with, and that the beating apparently grew out of her interference in the affair.

Wallace was to be arraigned on the drunk charge before Judge John Landell in San Juan Capistrano justice court this afternoon, since officers believed it may be several days before the young's mother has recovered enough to tell her story.

'RAIN AGAIN' SAYS DUCK IN FORECAST

Shows Last Night Add to Total Fall

Dewpoint the Duck got his rubbers out again today. "It's going to rain," he quacked. "Watch it roll off my back."

Dewpoint's prediction was in a fair way to be realized this afternoon, the U. S. Weather bureau said.

Its forecast predicted a "new storm," moving in from the Pacific. A very slight rainfall last night whetted (or wetted) the county's appetite for more. Santa Ana received only .016 of an inch, Orange .01 of an inch, and other communities a trace.

Officials expressed a danger that continued heavy rains might result in flood damage, as the already-soaked ground gave indication of being filled.

In Los Angeles county yesterday's downpour resulted in a large section of Pacific Electric tracks being washed out by the storm. At Huntington Beach a huge pine tree, undermined by flood run-off, toppled, blocking traffic for several hours.

Santiago creek and the Santa Ana river gave indications of preparing to repeat last year's performance, when each resembled a miniature Mississippi during the height of the storms.

Welfare Head Under Quiz

Welfare Director Jack W. Snow was closeted with the county grand jury for more than an hour this morning, as the inquirers reportedly began winding up business for the year.

Snow was questioned informally about operation of his office and mounting costs of relief in the county made mandatory by liberalized state laws. His words were not recorded.

The jury's annual audit of county books has been completed, it was reported, and little business remains before a preliminary or final report can be submitted, if the jury wishes to be discharged.

A probe of the county hospital burning of little Ramon Arnez still had not been called when the jury adjourned for lunch.

Famed Engineer Called by Death

BOSTON, (AP)—Dexter P. Cooper, 67, noted engineer who dreamed of harnessing the tides of the Bay of Fundy and who conceived the Passamaquoddy tidal project, died today of a heart attack.

Cooper's son, Dexter, jr., announced his death.

The Air Is Full of It!

Yessir, the air is full of radio waves from dozens of stations, and that is why so many folks are dial twisters. It's fun to know what you are dialing in on. Orange county etherites have learned to depend on The Journal's special Dial-a-logic department edited by Newscaster Tom Danson. For all major coast stations, and Santa Ana's station KVOE exclusively, tune in on page 11 of today's Journal.

NATIONAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE FOR LITTLE MERCHANT SOUGHT

ROTH LEADS CONFERENCE ON BUSINESS

FDR Says Conference To Aid Administration

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Fred Roth, Cleveland wholesaler, who dealt with the chairman of President Roosevelt's conference of small business men, suggested today the creation of a permanent advisory committee to represent little business in the same manner the business advisory council represents large interests.

Roth, chosen permanent chairman of the conference in a hectic session, marked by applause, yells and roars of approval and disapproval, made the suggestion in a brief talk outlining some of the purposes of the meeting.

BREAK PROGRAM
Soon after Roth finished his remarks, noisy protests against speech-making forced the conference to break up into 10 discussion groups within an hour after they met. This disarranged the conference program which would have delayed meeting of the smaller discussion groups until afternoon.

Roth spoke after the conference had received word from President Roosevelt that he expected "the suggestions resulting from your conference will be very helpful to me."

"I am hopeful," Roth said, "that out of this meeting some permanent organization can be formed similar to that of big business, which might act in an advisory capacity to the department of commerce."

SAME TROUBLES
Roth also moved to identify the interests of all business both big and small, saying "the troubles which afflict small business today are not different in substance from those of big business."

The President's welcome to the hundreds of merchants, small manufacturers, and other businessmen was presented by Secretary of Commerce Roper in a speech delivered at the first session.

Preceding the conference, many of the "little fellows" in business voiced protests against what they termed unfair trade practices of some large concerns.

DEMAND ACTION
Representatives of retail merchants from all parts of the country went to the session expressing determination to demand action against various types of chain store organizations.

Some said they were interested in getting taxes imposed on chain corporations. Others sought conference approval of varied types of restrictions on their big competitors.

Many said they believed these demands might figure in President Roosevelt's efforts to end monopolies and business "abuses."

of telephone poles, or Edison poles, or just poles. I can create some competitive bidding maybe I can get 'em cheaper than 16 cents a pole, but I insist on running my transaction through an escrow office.

And then there was Mac Robins who thought he ought to pay his luncheon money in Lincoln pennies, when Dr. Warren addressed the Rotary club yesterday on "The Life of Lincoln."

If the money saved on irrigation is released for other purposes retail business should be better.

The acceptance of the G. Willard Bassett-Ruth Armstrong program of old familiar hymns was almost instantaneous. Willard has insisted that there was a place on radio for the hymns our mother used to sing, the gospel music of long ago, and refused to surrender his viewpoint and conviction when he had opportunity to get into classical company on his audition before Major Bowes. It is the story of the little acorn again. He offered a test program, and it etherized into an audition before Los Angeles maestros, who at the conclusion of his program said: "How soon can you go to work?" When his local contract is completed he will get a Pacific coast audience over the Mutual Broadcasting system of some 25 stations. He has a God-given voice and is paying back the obligation.

Court Applicant Waits Test

Three attorneys were named today by superior court judges to examine Leoni Slaback for appointment as official superior court reporter.

Slaback, who records testimony by a stenotype machine, will be examined by Raymond Thompson, Leo Friis and Asst. Dist. Atty. Preston Turner. One of them will dictate 150 words a minute for five minutes, according to the code of civil procedure for Slaback to record. Slaback's father, Lester Slaback, is a veteran court reporter here.

PLEADS TO ASSAULT

Charged with striking Louis Selin, 415 Bush street, Rex Whittemore, 46 Pasadena, pleaded guilty to assault and battery before City Judge J. G. Mitchell today and was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence.

F. R.'s Gesture Copied

Gesture is used by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt in a discussion with Dr. Lewis A. Wilson at National Youth leaders meeting in Albany, N. Y. The President used a similar gesture in recent Jackson day speech belaboring minority "striving to control country's economy." Said the President: "Here is a 96-inch dog being wagged in by a four-inch tail."

STATE ATTACKS WRIGHT STORY

fy little courtroom. He bared many secrets of his life as a student at the University of Wisconsin, as an artillery sergeant with the United States forces in the World war, as a bond trader in Chicago "with 23 telephones on my desk," as a druggist in St. Petersburg, Fla., and as an airplane salesman.

As to his married life, he admitted he told friends he suspected his wife of unfaithfulness, but he insisted that at no time did he have any reason to take her life, nor did he ever plan to do so. Kimmel was always the perfect gentleman. Nov. 8, 1937, was the first time, he said, that, to his knowledge, Mrs. Wright and Kimmel were together alone. That was the date they were killed.

WRIGHT SOBS
Wright's composure failed him several times as he answered questions of his own attorney. He sobbed convulsively, wiped tears from his eyes. His voice became husky.

As the prosecution began hammering away at him, trying to break down his version of the shootings, he sat erect in the witness chair. With alacrity becoming the president of a $2,000,000 airport, he was cautious, precise in his replies. His emotions were fully under control.

"Were you jealous of your wife?" Prosecutor Roll asked him. Wright qualified his reply in several sentences.

"Well, you were suspicious of her, weren't you?" Roll demanded. "Suspicious? In what respect?"

"Why, in connection with things that would cause jealousy," Roll answered.

EXPLAINS JEALOUSY
"Mr. Roll, as I understand jealousy by a man, it is a sort of protective element. It is an impulse a man has to protect his wife against influences and persons outside his family life."

Roll tried to pin Wright down about alleged discrepancies in the statement he made to Glendale police after the shootings. He wanted Wright to estimate distances in feet as related to various doors and pieces of furniture in his living room. The state contended Wright crept up on his wife and Kimmel and shot them from close range. It claims exploded shells from Wright's pistol were found in the piano strings.

Roll got nowhere in his efforts. Wright ended that phase of the questioning with this statement: "Mr. Roll, I can't recall all those details. When I came in there to that scene my whole topology about my shoulders."

After the cross-examination is completed the defense will offer four more witnesses, then rest its case.

VOORHIS SEEKS TRANSIENT AID

WASHINGTON. (AP)—A bill which would authorize distribution of $10,000,000 for the current fiscal year for financial aid to states for care of transients has been introduced by Rep. Jerry Voorhis of San Dimas.

Law May Shift Relief Burden

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Amendment of the old age assistance law to shift more of the burden from the counties onto the state was proposed here today as Assemblyman Hubert C. Scudder of Sebastopol.

The assemblyman revealed he has asked Gov. Frank F. Merriam to include the subject in his call for a special session of the legislature.

WAR VETS NAME NEW OFFICERS

Four new members, Warren P. Baker, Tustin; Maj. Thomas B. Kennedy and Paul, W. McFarlane, Laguna Beach, and Ora Prosser, Santa Ana, were elected at last night's meeting of Calumet camp, a United Spanish War Veterans, in K. C. hall.

The camp also voted to join the campaign for funds to preserve the old battleship Oregon as a Spanish War Veterans' museum in Portland, Ore. Clifford R. Judd of Los Angeles, chief of staff of the department of California, was a guest of the camp and gave a short talk.

Named as a committee to arrange for the pot-luck dinner slated for Feb. 22 were Joseph Fitzpatrick, James M. Pearson, William Kelsey and Joseph Peterson. Commander Albert P. Dresser presided.

FOOD PRICES AT LOW EBB

Grocery, meat and vegetable prices in Orange county are the lowest in months.

Local merchants, commenting on reports from Chicago, agreed there have been declines in meat ranging from nine to more than 30 per cent on all cuts. Butter, eggs, potatoes and flour prices likewise show marked price decreases here and in Chicago.

Whereas vegetables are down at the present time the nation over, this time of the year Orange county consumers are always able to obtain these commodities for less money, owing to the production at Imperial valley.

A monopoly on meat was broken sometime ago when the public, finding prices too high, began purchasing substitutes, one local butcher explains.

FRANCE URGED TO LAY SHIPS

PARIS. (AP)—A proposal for France to lay down six 35,000-ton battleships within the next three years will be presented to the cabinet tomorrow by Naval Minister William Bertrand, a member of his staff said today.

The minister will ask the cabinet to approve a request to parliament to vote a billion francs (about $33,330,000) immediately and a billion francs each year for six years, earmarked for construction of battleships outside the usual navy appropriations.

The staff informant said Bertrand had conferred with Premier Camille Chautemps regarding his plans.

Coastal Land Oil Rights Disputed

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The justice department has objected to a proposal by Senator Nye (R., N. D.) to establish United States ownership of petroleum deposits beneath submerged coastal lands. Attorney General Cummings wrote the house judiciary committee a senate-approved resolution inferring the United States owned the land when in reality this was questionable.

Instead of the resolution as suggested by Nye, the attorney general proposed the justice department merely be authorized to "secure judicial determination as to whether title to the land in question is in the United States."

The oldest mention of Robin hood appeared about 1377, in the second edition of Piers Plowman.

LEAGUE ASKS ASSISTANCE FOR CHINA

GENEVA. (AP)—The council of the League of Nations closed its 100th session today after adopting a resolution asking League powers to aid China.

Two nations, Poland and Peru, abstained from the voting. Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, the Chinese delegate, warned the violence in the Orient jeopardized the peace of Europe. Appealing for aid, he insisted it was the League's duty and "opportunity" to discourage Japanese aggression in China.

In an impassioned speech, Dr. Koo declared maltreatment of Americans and Europeans by Japanese soldiers in China had been an intentional step in a Japanese plan to drive Occidentals out of the Orient.

"Japanese soldiers," he said, "appear to take special pride in insulting a white man."

Dr. Koo declared the resolution was inadequate and reserved the right for China to ask the League later "to adopt positive measures."

China's hopes for material aid dwindled, however, with tension growing in Europe over the problem of confining the Spanish civil war to Spain.

BEACH PIER THREATENED

Condemnation of the old Seal Beach pier as a "menace to navigation, health and safety" was asked today in a superior court suit filed by the city of Seal Beach.

Defendants in the action for $300,000 damages abatement and declaratory relief are the Bayside Land company and the Security First National bank of Los Angeles, owners. Presiding Judge James L. Allen granted the city a temporary restraining order, and ordered the defendants to appear and show cause Feb. 11 before Superior Judge G. K. Scovel.

U. S. OFFERS SILVER BUY

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The treasury has offered to purchase 5,000,000 ounces of silver from Mexico during the current month, laying to rest reports that the silver purchase program might be utilized for reprisals against recent increases in Mexican tariffs.

The purchase offer was similar to other commitments made each month for more than a year. Also in accordance with monthly practice, the treasury offered to buy 2,000,000 ounces of silver from Canada in February.

CONTINUE HUNT FOR LOST BOY

UKIAH. (AP)—Two hundred men scoured the rugged wilderness northeast of here for trace of 4-year-old Teddy Thompson today, coincident with an announcement from the sheriff's office here that further information regarding the disappearance would be sought from the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson.

Deputy Sheriff B. G. Broadbent said Sheriff E. L. Williams, Deputy Sheriff Ben Waldo and District Attorney James Busch were at the isolated Thompson home, from which the boy was reported to have wandered last Saturday.

Broadbent said the lad had been disciplined shortly before he disappeared. The father, WPA worker with the forest service, said the boy was barefooted and only lightly clad.

L. A. MAY GET ARMORY SITE

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The navy would be authorized to accept on behalf of the government an armory site in Los Angeles for use of the naval and marine corps reserves in a bill introduced by Rep. Charles Kramer of Los Angeles.

Child's Success Reads Like Plot Of 'Cinderella'

Five-year-old Janet Kay Chapman's success story reads like the scenario of the movie in which she is appearing.

Its title is "Little Lady Luck." And listen to this: Janet's mother is critically ill in Los Angeles general hospital. Her father, Burl Chapman, has been out of work for weeks. The family lives with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Phillips, 205 East Elm avenue, Fullerton.

But several weeks ago, after a hurried tryout, Janet Kay was signed on a six-year contract by Warner Brothers, paying $100 a week up to $750 a week, provided her option is renewed!

Her chance in pictures came through a singing and dancing coach in Los Angeles, with whom she had been studying for the past year.

Watchdog Nellie Gets Nasty When Firemen Arrive

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Nellie the Watchdog was trained not to let anybody near the Kent Feather company plant at night.

No one ever mentioned that firemen were an exception, so when a bunch of them arrived with a lot of racket last night she barked, bit at their heels and snapped at their hose lines. It took almost as long to subdue Nellie as it did to put out the fire. The salvage corps estimated damage in the three-story brick building at $8000. Firemen blamed sparks from a nearby brush fire.

NEW PIRACY PATROL URGED

LONDON. (AP)—Britain today called for rigid enforcement of the three-power Mediterranean warship patrol to put down what Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden called a "revival of piracy" arising from Spain's civil war.

Eden called on France and Italy, sharing with Britain the patrol set up by the Nyon accord of last fall, to join in direct action against the recurring submarine menace, but the house of commons discussed Spanish government charges that Italy herself was responsible for the latest sinking.

Eden told the house Britain already had acted to strengthen the patrol—spurred by the sinking of the British freighter Edymion by an unidentified submarine off Cartagena, Spain, Sunday with the loss of 10 lives.

MOVIES HIGH SALARIES HIT

NEW YORK. (AP)—The state supreme court has been asked to restrain Loew's, Inc., holding company for motion picture production firms, from entering into "personal service contracts" with 14 of its executives, in a suit filed by Bernard Epstein, a stockholder.

In his complaint Epstein listed annual compensation of the 14, including both salaries and bonuses. Some of the highest paid were Louis B. Mayer, executive in charge of production, $956,000; Nicholas M. Schenck, president and director, $430,000; Mervyn Leroy, producer, $380,000; Hunt Stromberg, supervisor, $380,000; Sam Katz, executive, $324,000; and Arthur Loew, director, $332,000.

OIL MEN TO FACE SECOND COURT TRIAL

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Attorney General Cummings said today the justice department planned to try 24 major oil companies and 46 individuals at Madison, Wis., next fall on further charges of anti-trust law violations.

At his press conference, Cummings said the trial would involve an indictment returned at Madison in December, 1932, which named many of the oil companies recently found guilty of fixing gasoline prices in the midwest.

The attorney general said the trial would take place if the government was able to begin "in a reasonable time."

Other justice department officials said government attorneys considered the untried indictment presented "even a stronger case" than the indictment tried this winter.

The same attorneys who represented the government in the previous case, Cummings said, will prosecute the defendants named in the second indictment.

The pending indictment charges the corporate and individual defendants with conspiring to fix uniform margins of profit for jobbers in 10 midwestern states. All the companies found guilty last month are named in the pending indictment.

MILITARY BALL DRIVE STARTED

Tickets for the tenth annual Military ball, scheduled for Feb. 21 in Valencia ballroom, were placed on sale today throughout the county. Chairman Charles A. Spurrier of the ticket committee announced. Local sales will be directed by Mrs. Edna Brown, president of the Disabled American Veterans auxiliary.

Harry S. Pickard, chairman of the committee in charge of the dance, said arrangements had been completed for presentation of drum corps, national guard members, military and naval guests, and consuls of various nations, together with uniformed bodies from throughout the county.

Next meeting of the citizens' committee in charge of the affair will be held next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. A. G. Flagg, 1320 North Broadway street.

SCOUTS TO MEET
County scoutmasters will meet this evening at 7:30 in the city hall council chambers, according to Scout Executive Harrison White.

America Plays Less Cards; Sees More Film

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. America played cards less, but went to more shows in 1937 than in 1936.

That's what the treasury found today after analyzing its tax collections.

Other notes on the levies of Americans last year:

They smoked more cigars, drank more legal liquor, used less snuff, took more camera pictures, and chewed more gum.

The tax figures showed that 3 1/2 cigars were turned out daily for every man, woman and child in the country for a new record.

PARTY PALS SENTENCED

Russell Evans and Kenneth McMurray, 21-year-old Maywood youths charged with giving liquor to two minor girls during a party at Balboa recently, were found guilty and sentenced to 15 days each in Judge D. J. Dodge's Costa Mesa justice court today.

After pleading not guilty and demanding a jury trial during their arraignment last week, the boys waived the jury today and were tried by the court.

Represented by Attorney Chris J. Griffin of Huntington Park, Evans and McMurray pleaded innocence on grounds they had not actually given wine to the girls, but that they had poured out the wine and the girls helped themselves.

Seven days of McMurray's sentence were suspended, since he has been in jail for the past week while he awaited trial. Evans, who posted bail when first arrested, will serve the full 15 days.

Deputy District Attorney Robert Gardner, who prosecuted the case on complaint of one of the girl's parents, indicated it was one of the first Orange county cases in which a conviction for violating the state liquor act had grown out of a private party.

FILM EXPORTS TAKE JUMP

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—American motion picture films, mostly made in Hollywood, were exported in greater volume last year, the department of commerce has reported. Exports of 215,721,956 linear feet compared with 209,651,404 in 1936, and the value of the business rose to $4,797,641 from $4,531,639.

U. S. ALONE IN NAVY DRIVE SAYS LEAHY

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Admiral William A. Leahy, chief of naval operations, told congress today the navy "has no plans" for combining with any other nations "in a possible war."

The navy's top-ranking officer made this statement to the house naval committee during the third day of hearings on a proposed $800,000,000 naval expansion program.

His flat denial of the existence of any such alliance came after Chairman Vinson (D., Ga.), called attention to demands made in the senate yesterday for clarification of the administration's foreign policy.

Senator Borah (R., Ida.), was one of those who told his colleagues the impression had been given there was a "tacit alliance" between the United States and Britain to build up their navies.

"This (building) program is justified by a need to provide naval strength in the same proportion that was provided in the Washington and London naval treaties—the 5-5-3 ratio," Leahy said.

In response to a direct question by Representative Maas (R., Minn.), Leahy said:

"The navy department has no plans for combining with any nation in a possible war."

Question by Vinson concerning statements that the proposed increase represented a radical change in American policy of seeking reduction in international naval armaments, Leahy replied that "exactly the opposite is true."

MRS. F. R. RIDES IN HORSE HERE

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt took her horsemanship into a public ring last night for the first time, riding in a benefit exhibition at Fort Myer.

The President watched her from a ringside seat as she put Badger, one of her two horses, through commands of "walk, please," "trot, please" and "gallop, please."

Although one of 10 contestants who survived the first elimination, the first lady, by pre-arrangement, was not considered for one of the four prizes. She received, however, a sheaf of red roses—and a smile from her husband.

The exhibition, which continues tonight, is a part of the capital's celebration of the President's birthday anniversary. Proceeds will go to the new national foundation for infantile paralysis.

Money Saved Is PROFIT

Some day soon you are going to need something. It may be a radio or a garden rake, an automobile or a pair of socks. But regardless of its size, you can save money when you buy it. And money saved is money made. And money made is profit.

There are lots of ways to go about making your purchase. But here's the best we know: Start reading the advertisements in this newspaper. Compare features and values. Study pictures, patterns, prices. Look for familiar, friendly brand names and trademarks.

In a week's time you'll be an expert radio or garden-rake buyer—whichever the case may be. You'll know who carries them, what makes they sell, and how much you should pay. And when you are ready to buy, you'll be able to make your dollar go just as far as a dollar can go. You'll save time. You'll save effort. You'll save money. You'll profit!

Turkey Diseases And Cure Listed

Of interest to the producers of Orange county's 30,000 turkeys will be a bulletin on diseases common to these birds obtainable at the farm advisory office.
The bulletin, according to Ross Crane, assistant farm advisor, describes symptoms of all common and unusual turkey diseases. It presents the latest scientific methods of control. Specific subjects covered are dietary diseases, fungus diseases, bacterial and virus diseases, protozoan diseases and miscellaneous diseases and parasites.
The bulletin is published by the University of California, college of agriculture.

TOOLS LIFTED

Two auto tools were stolen from Clarence E. Rurup's car while it was parked in front of his home, 11 East Fourth street, yesterday. They later were recovered at a second-hand store where they assertedly had been sold by a friend of Rurup. The tools were returned and Rurup declined to sign a complaint.

BOARD HITS AT BIDDERS ON SUMP JOB

County supervisors "cracked down" again today on two sets of contractors who submitted identical bids on flood control jobs.
Disposal sumps in the West street conservation basin will be dug by the district on forced account, and well casing will be bought through the purchasing department. Private contractors who submitted the same figures were out in the cold.
Thus the county board again aimed to break "combine" bidding which has prevailed for years in county government in many types of work. Three months ago identical bids were submitted, then thrown out in the same manner, on the well-digging project.

Supervisor N. E. West, outspoken foe of "collusion" in bidding, made the motion for rejection of the five bids yesterday, and was seconded by Supervisor John Mitchell. The rejection carried unanimously.
Robert Arundell, Charles Wilson and Walter O. Hill each had bid $3281 for digging of the sumps, and the State Steel Products, Inc., and Southern Pipe and Casing company bid $1426 each for furnishing well casing.

CHURCH ELDER DIES AT 76

Alexander Campbell Armstrong, 76, elder of the Santa Ana Church of Christ, died at his home, 440 South Sycamore street, early this morning after a long illness.

Mr. Armstrong was born in Springfield, Mo., and has been a resident of Santa Ana for the past 25 years. He was retired for some time prior to his death. Funeral services will be announced later by Brown and Wagner funeral home.
He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sarah E. Armstrong, one daughter, Mrs. John Adams of Orange; one grandson, John Benton Adams of Orange; four brothers, Joseph Armstrong of Long Beach, Dr. A. Armstrong of Springfield, Mo., Byrd Armstrong and James Armstrong of Bolivar, Mo.

Flowers Assuage Art Yearnings

Do you have artistic urges? Albert Richard Stockdale says the time to let them run rampant is when arranging your flowers.
Tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. Stockdale will give a lecture on "Low Floral Arrangements and Floating Bouquets," in the Willard cafe-terias, under the auspices of the adult education department.
His talk will be concerned with bouquet constructions, arrangements, use of containers, frogs and forms, and combination of seasonal vegetation with flowers. The audience may bring bouquets or finished arrangements for criticism. Mrs. Goldie Weston, director, announced today.

Milstein to Play With Philharmonic

Nathan Milstein, noted violinist, will make his sixth appearance with the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra Feb. 17 and 18.
He will play Tchaikovsky's concerto for violin in D major. The concerto is a favorite with concert audiences by virtue of its melodic charm and spirit.
Milstein began his concert work in Russia when he was 19. He first came to this country in 1929, and has won the lasting acclaim of critics and audiences alike with his brilliant performances since.

Stolen Car Turns Up in Garage

A car believed abandoned by William Crosby and Zelma Johnson just before they left for Phoenix, Ariz., where they were arrested on a robbery charge last week-end, has turned up in Bradley's garage at Laguna Beach, police disclosed today.
Crosby is accused of holding up a Phoenix postoffice sub-station, Laguna Beach police learned, and he also has been questioned in connection with similar robberies at Santa Monica and West Los Angeles.

Pottery Stand Reported Stolen

Burglary of Dr. J. C. Hancock's pottery stand at Salt Creek, near Laguna Beach, was reported to the sheriff's office yesterday. The building apparently was entered through a window. Total loot, including a raincoat, overcoat and radio, was valued at $30.

ACCIDENT ARREST

Arrested at Tenth and Spurgeon streets yesterday after assisting striking a parked car registered to Katherine Buxton, 630 North Ross street, Harry E. Delaney, 23, 46 1/2 Plaza square, Orange, was booked in the county jail on a drunk driving charge. No one was injured in the accident, but both cars were damaged considerably.

THIEVES GET LIGHTS

A $50 pair of foglights were stolen from a car registered to Bob Bradley, 1612 South Van Ness street, Monday night, he reported to police yesterday. The car was parked at 1916 West Fifth street when the theft occurred.

Millions Heard His Voice

SOME CALL IT A GWAMPUS Nature Makes Strange Error

You name it.
Just for identification, we'll call it La Belle Wether.
It's a peculiar combination, unequaled even in the county's animal act—half mountain sheep, half deer, its owner claims.
But the state fish and game commission officially declares it a perfectly orthodox Mexican mountain sheep.
The animal has caused much trouble up in the Rancho Santa Ana country, where cowboy B. L. Taulbee has it in captivity.
Main point of argument is whether Taulbee can keep it. The fish and game commission thumbed through several pages of fine print, finally decided it was against the law. Now Taulbee and others have convinced game wardens the animal was born in Mexico, actually has been in captivity in the San Diego zoo, and has lost its right to freedom.
Clearance papers are currently being drafted, and chances are the peculiar beast—which has horns like a mountain sheep, yet looks something like an antelope—can become a pet at the rancho. Investigation of its family history still is being followed up by Game Warden H. C. Jackson, he said today.

CITRUS HOUSE MAKES REPORT

The Frances Citrus association counted its losses from last year's heavy frost yesterday, re-elected officers for the coming year, and looked hopefully ahead to a better season in 1938.
Cullage was increased from approximately 5 per cent to more than 35 per cent as a result of the Jan. 20, 1937, freeze, reports showed.

During 1937 the association shipped 261.5 cars of fruit, sold 335.5 boxes of loose fruit, and sent 151,659 boxes to by-products plants. Total returns were $599,169.13. Costs for freight and labor were $171,087.
Re-elected as officers were C. V. Newman, president; Ray Lambert, vice president; H. J. Seba, second vice president; and J. H. Bray, secretary-treasurer. Directors were C. E. Utt, R. J. Baker, E. M. Crawford and W. I. Ferrey.
The annual meeting was held yesterday morning in the auditorium of the San Joaquin Fruit company.

Lincoln Escapes 'White Trash'

Abraham Lincoln did not come from "poor white trash." Instead, he was the descendant of a fine family, with careful training and many accomplishments in early American history.
This finding about the past of one of America's greatest presidents was given to local Rotarians at their luncheon at the Masonic Temple yesterday by Dr. Louis A. Warren, historian for the Lincoln National Life Insurance company and a close student of Abraham Lincoln.

"His forebears included many statesmen and politicians," Dr. Warren told the group, "although his immediate family was in poor financial circumstances."

The Lincoln expert was introduced by Guy J. Gilbert. John McCoy presided.

Squawking Guineas Deter Thievery

Tattooed gophers and shrill-voiced guinea fowl would assist the Orange county deputy sheriff farm patrol in protecting turkey raisers against thieves under a scheme submitted today by H. E. Cosby, head of the poultry department of Oregon State college.

Cosby urges turkey raisers to tattoo their birds with identifying marks of ownership. Then he suggests raising a healthy guinea fowl with the turkeys to sound an alarm in case intruders enter the pens.

Ross Crane, assistant Orange county farm advisor, says the plan might work. He added, turkey thefts have been few in this county, however.

MERRIAM TO TOSS HAT IN RING

Gov. Frank F. Merriam will toss his hat in the 1938 political ring at the annual convention of the California Republican assembly in Riverside Feb. 11, 12 and 13.
Governor Merriam and Lieutenant Governor Hatfield announced today they would attend the three-day meeting, which will attract delegates from San Diego to Eureka.
Republican leaders from the 19th Congressional district, including Orange county, have devoted most of their attention to the district pre-primary convention, also slated for Riverside in April, local leaders said today. A number will attend the Riverside party, however.

The schedule calls for the final meeting of the board of directors on Feb. 11, to be followed by registration of delegates the following day. Lieutenant Governor Hatfield will be speaker at the first day's session.
The banquet will be held Saturday evening, to be followed by a floor show and dancing. Governor Merriam will be speaker at the annual governor's breakfast Sunday morning.

Robert S. Barkell of Oakland is president of the state assembly. Vice President Donald G. Adams, Riverside, is host for the convention. All meetings will be held in the Mission Inn.

HEAVY DAY IN TRAFFIC COURT

Whether or not the groundhog saw his shadow today, City Judge J. G. Mitchell was convinced spring had arrived after scanning yesterday's traffic court docket, which showed unmistakable signs of a springtime boom.

Eight speeding fines, including one for $20, and 14 overtime parking fines were levied in the biggest traffic session so far this year.
Gordon E. Smith, San Pedro, paid $20 for carelessly traveling 60 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone at Seventeenth and Greenleaf streets, while other speeders fined included:
Harland C. Huff, Pasadena, $8; Thomas H. Barker, Los Angeles, $8; Maude C. Hall, Santa Ana, $8; Earl D. Hawkins, San Clemente, $8; Herbert H. Spencer, Huntington Park, $8; Denny D. Crawford, Glendale, $8; and John Fernandez, Placentia, $5.
Adolph Fernandez, Placentia, was fined $5 for allegedly letting an unlicensed minor drive, while Norman Dasher and Burr Shafer, both of Santa Ana, each brought in three of the 14 parking tickets.

YMCA to Launch Leadership Drive

The Boys' committee of the local Y. M. C. A. starting next week will sponsor a Leadership Enlistment campaign under the chairmanship of H. G. Nelson. Prospective leaders will be asked to give of their time and service in leading Y. M. C. A. boys clubs. The campaign was authorized at the meeting Tuesday in the Y. M. C. A. building.
Members present were: H. G. Nelson, R. H. MacArthur, Ferris Scott, John Schrier, Dr. Dexter Ball, Carl Warner, Dale Winterbourne, E. H. Layton, Edward Budd and Leon Landerbach.
Final arrangements for the campaign will be presented to all the workers at a breakfast Sunday morning at 7:30 at the Y. M. C. A. The closing event of the campaign will be a dinner Friday night, Feb. 11. All interested in boys' work are invited.

Reports of progress during the past year and announcement of plans for the future were presented by the chairman of the five commissions:
MacArthur, Christian citizenship program; Schrier, building work; Fred Avila, Mexican work; Edward Budd, Hi-Y work and Judge Morrison, community work.

In Voodooland Use Voodoo

By DALE CARNEGIE

Do you always try to speak the other person's language, to think of the problems from his point of view? Dr. Victor G. Heiser once did a neat job in speaking the other fellow's language. He tells about it in his fascinating book, "An American Doctor's Odyssey."

He and his staff were faced with the problem of giving injections Dale Carnegie of a newly developed salvarsan to some wild tribesmen in Northern Luzon in the Philippines. They were wild boys indeed and they were not going to have any white doctor squirt stuff under their skins! They meant business, too, for only a short time previous to this they carried knives—bolos, they called had been head-hunters and they then as sharp as razors. On top of this, they were most superstitious.

Dr. Heiser told them he had a wonderful new medicine that would cure them of a dreadful disease from which they were suffering. But these Igorrotes would have none of it. Dr. Heiser had men brought in from other provinces who had been cured and showed them to the wild Igorrotes, but the only responses were grunts and head-shakes.

Finally, the doctor hit upon the idea of looking at the matter from their point of view. He began to praise the fine work their medicine men had done, and the helpful way the tribesmen worked with him. Then he said he had a magic stick of his own, but, of course, it wasn't so good as that of their medicine men. Finally he got them to agree to use both his medicine and that of their own doctor. He used his hypodermic needle on them, then gave each a stick of wood with 15 pieces of string tied on it, and said:

"Each morning have your bolo ready and just as the sun comes up, cut off one loop of string. Do this every day until all the 15 are gone, then come back."

Fifteen days was the time required for the salvarsan to act. But the wild men did not come back. A month passed and then one morning there was a terrific to-do at the little white camp. The doctor looked out—the place was swarming with Igorrotes! He was a bit nervous for a moment—then noticed that the visitors were suffering from the disease—and each one of them carried a stick with 15 pieces of string on it!

Before long most of this mountain colony was cured—by the simple method of seeing the problem from the other person's point of view, though that point of view was voodoo.

And that is exactly what everyone of us can do almost every day of our lives. See it through the other person's eyes.
The next time you have a problem like that to solve, think of the stick with 15 pieces of string. (Copyright, 1938)

DeMolay Installs Officers In Impressive Ceremony

Old Ballots To Be Snatched From Rodents

A tribe of rats, nourished on old ballots and election supplies, is going to get hungry sooner or later.
Supervisors today had moved to construct a new, ratproof building at the county yard to house County Clerk B. J. Smith's election supplies and old papers, which the law says he must keep. Smith told the board that rats had been chewing on the present building and its contents.

Cost of the building, to be about 40 by 50 feet in size, will not exceed $1500.

LICENSE FEES NET $100,000

More than $100,000 in revenue has been collected from automobile and truck license fees at the California Division of Motor Vehicles office, located temporarily in the city hall, since it opened Jan. 2. Motorists who have not secured their new plates are urged to do so at once as the deadline here is 5 p. m. Friday.

Nearly 16,000 sets of plates have been issued by the local branch since the service started. Average cost per set of license plates is $6.26. Lowest charge for plates is $3.40. Plates for certain new, expensive cars and trucks may run more than $75.
Popularity of the service is evidenced by figures showing the sets of plates issued for first week, 4550; second week, 3160; third week, 3518 and fourth week, 3404.

Rural Area Cops Cause Gratitude

Victorious in its fight for additional deputy sheriffs to police the rural areas, the Associated Chambers of Commerce today had their gratitude on record.
H. M. May, secretary of the group, wrote county supervisors thanking them very much for adding five men to the sheriff's patrol after months of agitation.

COURT PETITION

Mrs. Minnie M. Whitney today had petitioned superior court to terminate the joint tenancy of her late husband, Norman J. Whitney, in six parcels of Orange county real estate, including five lots in the city of Orange. Mr. Whitney died Jan. 15.

KATELLA WAR ENDED BY SUPERVISORS

The Katella trek to the courthouse, a weekly event for the past month and a half, was discontinued today. The war was over. Supervisors put an end to hostilities yesterday afternoon when they declared a short section of Hester street a public thoroughfare, as demanded by most Katella residents over the protest of C. M. McNeese, who believes he owns the land crossed by the road.

In declaring the road a public thoroughfare, supervisors ruled it had been used by the public for many years and had not been posted with a "private property" sign. McNeese recently posted such a sign preparatory to constructing a soil laboratory building. His sign started irate ranchers marching to the board weekly.

Hours of argument and a public hearing ended with yesterday's decision, which, according to McNeese, may be tested in the courts.

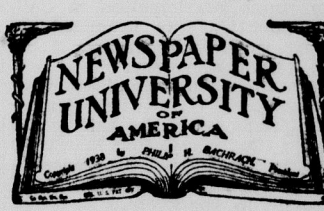

UNBEATEN 'Y' FIVES TANGLE

Two undefeated Y. M. C. A. league basketball teams carry their colors into the fifth round of play tonight with a good chance to continue their winning ways.

Unbeaten Irvine and M. E. South's club open the triple-bill at 7 o'clock. Barr Lumber company and Patterson's Dairy hook up at 8 o'clock, and Wilson's long string of victories should remain intact after battling the Southern Counties Gas company five at 9 o'clock.

Musical Program At Breakfast Club

Breakfasters will again be favored next Thursday morning with a musical program. Prof. Vladimir Lenski and John Hart Staudt in violin duet, accompanied by Miss Olive Schweitzer. There will also be a character portrayal by Mrs. Tenny Low, a graduate of Northwestern University, and winner of the cup for the best characterization in one act plays sponsored by the Los Angeles Federated Clubs for 1937. The master of ceremonies will be Harry Low.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

Now it's Representative Crosby of Pennsylvania who is blasting Dr. Francis E. Townsend, because the Townsend plan will not be a party to betraying the several million Townsend club members of the nation by lending his influence to a mere amending of the Old Age Security act, instead of continuing the drive to enact the Townsend plan into law. The accusation was made in a press dispatch Monday that Doctor Townsend "is trying to block passage of a $60 to $75-a-month pension."

The dispatch goes on to say, "Dr. Townsend's militant denunciation of proposed amendments to a bill bearing his original indorsement is blocking the thing he most desires—an adequate old age pension for those over 60 years of age."

I wonder if it has ever entered into the mind of Representative Crosby that the name "Townsend National Recovery Plan" by which the principles of the Townsend plan are described as to their purpose, might be significant. There is truth in the suggestion that Dr. Townsend wants adequate old age pensions for those over 60 but to say that "is the thing he most desires" is not all the truth. The Townsend plan principles intend a national recovery that will rectify the basis of the economic ills with which the nation is afflicted.

Rep. Crosby is trying with the aid of his colleagues to palm off something on the old folks entirely unlike the economic freedom and adequate spending power which the Townsend Founder and his organization continue to covet for the old people. Does Mr. Crosby think that he can tell the Townsends and make them believe it, that $60 to $75-a-month pensions are adequate to bring about a national recovery which will insure jobs at right wages for the children and grand-children of the aged folk, whose confidence in Dr. Townsend he would destroy?

There is little wonder that Dr. Townsend refuses to join a group which would run up the white flag of surrender to the enemies behind the scenes who have always fought the enactment into law of the

Horatio Alger Rise for Youth

BOSTON. (AP)—Forty years ago Samuel Zemurray, an 11-year-old immigrant boy in Mobile, Ala., bought a discharged cargo of ripe bananas, sold them to a small dealer, collected a nice profit.

Today the same Zemurray is president of far flung United Fruit company.

His choice by United Fruit's directors to succeed Francis E. Hart, who died Jan. 18, capped a climax to a storybook climb.

The Mobile experience led Zemurray to New Orleans, where he contracted with United Fruit to buy its ripe cargoes. A few years later he and a partner bought their own steamship and began shipping bananas from Honduras.

In 1910 Zemurray formed Cuyamel Fruit company. Twenty years later United Fruit bought him out for $600,000 shares of its stock. Two years later he became United's managing director in charge of operations.

At 68 the bishop told the 88th diocesan convention here that "very few men of 70 or over have physical strength to meet adequately the demands of the bishop's office."

Age need not hamper "a right perspective on life" and changing society, Bishop Parsons said.

The bishop said he would surrender to his coadjutor administration of parishes and missions of the diocese and responsibility for candidates for the ministry.

O'Connor Silent On Governorship

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—J. F. T. O'Connor, controller of the currency, declines to say whether he would be a candidate for governor of California.

ASSESSOR IS APPOINTED

ORANGE.—J. W. Huber was appointed by the council to be the deputy city tax collector, his duties to begin March 1 and to last until all of the city has been assessed. For the job he will receive $300, the usual fee paid by the city for this service.

V. D. Johnson, secretary of the chamber of commerce, in a communication asked the council to put up a sign directing traffic in Orange, the sign to be located on Highway 101 near the county hospital north of Santa Ana boulevard. He said many newcomers become confused and miss the turn to Orange.

The street committee of the council, Kellar Watson and Dr. J. E. Riley, was named by Mayor A. C. Boice to look into the matter and if possible install the sign.

Chief of Police George Franzen was allowed expenses to attend the annual state traffic safety meeting at Fresno, where he represented the city.

200 AT LAGUNA CHURCH EVENT

LAGUNA BEACH.—Two hundred members of the Community Presbyterian church attended the first all-church dinner in the new addition to the building last night. Principal speaker of the evening was Dr. A. B. Keeler of the board of national missions of the Presbyterian church.

Brief addresses were made by George W. Pryor, treasurer and trustee of the church; Frederick B. Walker, clerk of session; Miss Nellie Ford Hills, president of the Women's society and the pastor, the Rev. Raymond I. Brahams.

As a special feature, moving pictures depicting the growth of the church from the groundbreaking to the dedicatory service were shown by Mr. and Mrs. William Hersey.

The pastor reported a marvelous growth in the attendance since completion of the new unit. Sunday school attendance is now close to 300, an increase of one-third in the last two months, he said.

MUSIC LOVERS' MEETING SET

LAGUNA BEACH.—The Music Lovers' club will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Hotel Laguna. President John H. Ferguson will preside. Mrs. Kathryn Bradley will be hostess with Cleo Allen Hibbs, local composer, assisting as host.

Miss Margaret L. Schaefer, program chairman, will present Ingrid Wicks, violinist; Genevieve Elliott Marshall, soprano, and Ruby La Nora Wicks, accompanist. The artists are from Long Beach.

Mesa Lions Have Musical Program

COSTA MESA.—Muriel Hatch, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Hatch of Costa Mesa, played two violin solos before the Costa Mesa-Newport Harbor Lions club Tuesday, her accompanist being Halstead McCormack, superintendent of music at the Costa Mesa Elementary schools.

Henry Abrams, school principal, was program chairman for the day. Forty-seven members and seven guests were present. Next week's program will be in charge of Walter Spicer.

Anniversary of Club Is Noted

LAGUNA BEACH.—Laguna Beach Women's club members celebrated the sixteenth birthday of the organization Friday in their clubhouse. Mrs. Lottie Rogers, 83, who lived in the building which is now the clubhouse, in 1881, was guest of honor.

Mrs. A. P. M. Brown of Anaheim gave a version of the popular play, "Victoria Regina."

MIDWAY CITY.—Alvin Van Steenberg of Palm Springs spent Monday with his mother, Mrs. Anne Van Steenberg.

Large Crowd Sees Midway City Amateur Hour Event

MIDWAY CITY.—An amateur hour sponsored by the Midway City Woman's club was held Monday night in the clubhouse with Jimmy Adams of The Journal acting as master of ceremonies.

Prizes were awarded winners of each of the four groups as follows: beginners, Ruth Meiers and Barbara Currutt, piano duo; novelties, Dorothy and Dick Hart, song and dance; instruments, Viola Gaston, James Marshall and Calvin Groves, accordion trio; Joe Laydon, soloist, accompanied by the Huntington Beach High School chorus won for the high school group with an original song written and composed by himself. The accordion trio also was awarded a prize for the most outstanding number on the program.

STAR CLUB HAS G. G. MEETING

GARDEN GROVE.—Mesdames A. C. Robbins, E. O. Fulson and A. J. Woodworth formed the hostess trio entertaining members of the Monday Afternoon Star club at the Robbins home recently. A 1 o'clock dessert course was served before bridge games which yielded prizes for Mrs. H. Hubert, Mrs. Thomas Haster and Mrs. Rodney Collins.

The February meeting was announced for the home of Mrs. W. A. Wheeler with Mrs. W. A. Gill and Mrs. George Lynch as assisting hostesses.

Mrs. Robb of Long Beach was a guest. Members attending being Mesdames J. A. Williams, P. Stroud, Cleve Johnson, W. A. Wheeler, Thomas Haster, L. W. Schauer, A. E. Nearing, Jack Jentges, C. E. Record Crowd Attends Mesa Mortgage-Burning Ceremony

COSTA MESA.—A record-breaking crowd for any community church function marked Monday night's victory dinner, given in celebration of the successful debt-raising campaign, brought to a close the first of the year.

Mortgages totalling $21,000 remained unpaid on the original cost of $32,000, when the campaign was launched last March by Dr. Virgil E. Turner of the board of home missions. Cancellation was secured on a large part of the indebtedness, a $5000 loan secured from the board of home missions and $4000 raised locally in the past 10 months by popular subscription and benefit dinners and performances. The home mission loan is repayable over a long period of years, at a low rate of interest.

Interesting facts regarding the campaign were brought out by Judge D. J. Dodge, president of the board of trustees, as a prelude to the mortgage burning ceremony.

The Rev. Grover E. Brown, of the Spanish-American institute, Gardena, and formerly superintendent of Sunday schools in the Community church, was presented by Everett A. Rea, master of ceremonies. Brown in turn introduced the Rev. Lyman R. Bayard, pastor of the First Methodist church, Watts, who held the pastorate of the Costa Mesa Community church at the time of its erection in 1932.

Bayard, who spoke on "Ideas and Ideals Underlying Building of the Church," stated that for a long while previous to its construction a prime need had been felt for a new church, increasing population having forced the Sunday school to split and some classes be held in the grammar school building and others in the Woman's club. Services were held in the present social hall of the church.

"As Costa Mesa was not a rich community, it long seemed impossible to raise sufficient public interest to finance building a new church. Many times we tried various methods of stimulating interest, until finally a stereoscopic show of famous cathedrals of Europe, turned the tide," Bayard said.

A committee composed of Judge Dodge, E. A. Spaulding, Harry Clark and others spent several months inspecting the most beautiful churches in Southern California, said the speaker, finally deciding upon the Normal Heights church in San Diego as the most satisfactory for this community.

Roland S. Tuttle, architect of the lights came on nobody knew who had been struck." A pleased chuckle rumbled from his throat. "I don't care much for violence, but a mysterious row like that is damn good for publicity."

Merrie started for the door. Stanley was too cocky. Surely his showmanship would not have got very far without her performance. Publicity—she loathed the word.

"Good night," she said. "Someone is waiting for me."

"Yeah—right outside the door—Curt Rawson."

Merrie turned back. "Only Curt? No one else?"

"Well rather," Stanley slapped his leg and laughed gleefully. "The hall is practically full of gentlemen."

"Mr. Blanchard—is he there?"

"The big blond fellow?" She nodded.

"No—left when the lights came on. I saw him sprinting through the foyer, and he looked like he wanted to blow up the place. Wonder what was the matter with that guy?" he mused.

So Jim had not stayed to take her home. He had come, seen her wretched act and left without allowing her to explain.

For an instant Merrie felt that she had been slapped. Then she was furious. If Jim wasn't man enough to give her the benefit of the doubt, that was his hard luck. He had done nothing but criticize her since she had known him.

All right—if he wanted to sulk and find fault, he could do it to his heart's content. The reckless defiance of Merrie's wedding night again brought a sparkle to her eyes, a daring smile to her lips.

SHE HAD CHANGED

"I'll go out the back way, Stanley," she said. "I don't think the terms of my contract call for a reception."

"Sure—that's all right. If you disappear it will only whet their interest," Mr. Stanley was always the showman.

Curt escorted Merrie to the rear elevator. She watched her covetly. She had changed. There was something about the tilt of her head.

She was the Merrie of the Riverend wedding reception. Hard. Defiant. Not so illusive.

She put her hand through his arm and walked close to him as they went through the wide alley to the street.

"Like me a little, darling?" he asked softly.

"What do you think?" Her hand pressed his arm. Why not like Curt? His devotion had never lagged.

He neither found fault with nor censured her. Jim Blanchard needn't think he owned her, body and soul.

"I borrowed a car, Merrie," Curt was saying. "Thought you might like to dash away from the bright lights for an hour or so."

"Why not?" she answered.

San Diego church, was brought from the East to draw up plans for Community church. An interesting point brought out by Bayard was the fact that Tuttle had studied for the ministry but was so talented as an architect the bishops advised him to turn his efforts toward designing beautiful places of worship instead of accepting a pastorate. The Costa Mesa Community church was the last building planned by the nationally known builder, who died a few months after its completion.

The church, the interior of which is known as one of the architectural gems of Southern California, derives its chief beauty from harmony in lines, spaces and coloring. Bayard said. The acoustics are so perfect a pin dropping from the highest balcony to the floor, may be heard in any part of the large auditorium.

The present pastor, Rev. Harold J. Smith, spoke briefly on "How the Church Expects to Continue."

Dr. Lawrence E. Warren of Chino spoke on "New Styles for the New Day." The speaker was presented by A. L. Howard.

WAR CURES TOLD CHURCH MEETING

LA HABRA.—"There are two things essential if the conquest of China by Japan is stopped, for the nations that 'have' to agree to assist the nations that 'have not,' and for those nations that 'have' to mutually confess their sins and stop setting an imperialistic example."

"That means for nations that have professed Christianity to heal the cleavage between profession and action," said Dr. Kirby Page, speaker yesterday at a meeting of the ministers and their wives and the laymen and their wives of the Methodist churches of Orange county at the La Habra church.

The speaker, well-known economist and writer, outlined in detail at the afternoon meeting "What War Is" and then at the evening meeting told of the causes and the means of cure.

He urged the Christian people to think this matter through, and to understand that a world fellowship of nations is essential in this closely tied together world. "Unless this is done," he warned, "we are in process of destroying civilization. Christian people must profess and act on faith and principle," he declared.

The Rev. R. D. Swenerton, pastor of the Anaheim Methodist church, presided, and the Rev. Arthur Kent, pastor of the La Habra church, and his congregation were hosts. A dinner was served in the evening.

It's another boy at the William Warren Foote home!

Coach Bill was being congratulated at Santa Ana High school on the birth of a son, weighing eight pounds and three ounces, at 3:45 a. m. today at St. Joseph's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Foote have not decided on a name for the future athlete. However, it won't be William Warren, Jr., because that's the name of Bill's first son.

"This glad news indeed that nightfall will retain its most colorful figure, Joe Rodgers, who has signed as manager of the Huntington Beach Oilers. What's more, he's been named president of the commission.

Every nightfan knows what Rodgers lends to the game. It just wouldn't seem the same without him.

Basketball as bitterly contested as any you've seen this season should result when the Orange and Anaheim varieties mix at Anaheim Friday night.

Comparative records make one dizzy in attempting to predict a winner in this game, which will be for the Sunset Prep league championship and the right to enter the annual C. I. F. eliminations.

Equally "hot" in basketball language, the clubs have compiled the following in their past four games:

ORANGE
Newport Harbor	20
L. E. Jordan	18
Excelsior	18
Huntington Beach	18
ANAHEIM	75
Newport Harbor	18
Huntington Beach	15
L. E. Jordan	15

Individual scoring honors have been claimed by Anaheim's veteran forward, Chauncey Woodrume, with 62 points for an average of better than 15 per game.

Bob (Spider) Shildmeyer, Orange forward who has been going like a house afire in his past two starts, has rolled up 44 points as compared to 28 for his high-scoring teammate of last year, Henry Martinez.

VINES LEADING PERRY, 7-5

STOCKTON. (AP)—Ellsworth Vines defeated Fred Perry, two sets out of three here last night, to widen his lead, 7 matches to 5, in their current pro-tennis exhibition tour. Vines won, 2-6, 6-2, 8-6.

Walter Senior defeated Berkeley Bell, 7-5, in a set preliminary and Senior and Vines defeated Perry and Bell, 6-2, 6-2 in the doubles event.

The professional tennis group moves into Pasadena tonight, with Vines hoping to break a "home town jinx."

A year ago, after trouncing the former English amateur star in Los Angeles, Vines opposed Perry before his own townspeople and took a surprise licking.

D'Maggio Entrainers For 'Frisco, Fails To Sign Contract

NEW YORK. (AP)—Chances that Joe D'Maggio, Yankee holdout outfielder, will sign his contract before he reports for training next month, are very slim. Joe started back to San Francisco yesterday without coming to terms. He even forgot to mail the rejected contract back to the club but promised to do it en route.

Champion Dude Chick May Unmask 'the Black Dragon'

If Dude Chick, world junior heavyweight wrestling king, lives up to expectations tomorrow night at the Orange County Athletic club, the greatest crowd of satisfied fans to attend a match at the Highway 101 club should leave the arena at the conclusion of the title bout.

For champion Chick faces the most disliked wrestler in the game—the unknown and undefeated Black Dragon. They clash in a two-out-of-three fall to a finish match that should just about top anything witnessed at the club in months.

New Star Scores 18 Points, But Dons Lose, 51-40

J. C. QUINTET LANDS ACE MINNESOTAN

Strengthened by a new star from Minnesota who flipped in 18 points for high-scoring honors, Santa Ana Jaycees basketball squad nevertheless lost a 51-40 decision to the powerful Town Team at Fullerton last night.

Art Heinisch, 6 ft. 2 in. heavy-weight from Chaska, Minn., and a prep school classmate of "Cy" Leivermann, joined Coach Blanchard Beatty's Dons and with his 18 points gave evidence of becoming a certain regular for Santa Ana's next three league games.

Heinisch, who also is a leading fullback prospect for the Dons next fall, will appear in Beatty's lineup again Friday night when he sends his cagers against the barn-burning Phoenix Junior college five. The game will be played at Santa Ana High school's gym because the Tustin floor, scene of other Don "home" games, will be occupied by the Tustin-San Juan Capistrano game that night. Phoenix defeated Glendale, 41 to 24, last night.

Santa Ana kept pace with Fullerton's independents during the first half, which ended 19-19. The Dons held a six-point advantage in the early stages of the second half, too, but wilted toward the end. Leading threats in the Fullerton attack were Del Jones with 11 points and Doug Wheeler with 10.

NEW STARS ENROLL AT JUNIOR COLLEGE

In addition to Art Heinisch from Minnesota, Santa Ana Junior college enrolled six stars from Santa Ana High school—Dick Horton and Vernon Carney in football; Herschel Whitney, Jim Johnson and Worth Elliott in track and Ralph Pagenkopp in baseball—yesterday. Grover Miller, county league discus king from Orange, also reported, as previously announced.

String of 84 Cage Victories Broken By Junior College

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (AP)—The plowboys of John Tarleton Junior college relaxed today.

Their streak of 84 consecutive basketball victories was broken last night by the San Angelo Junior college Rams, 27-26, at San Angelo.

The defeat was an answer to Coach W. J. Wisdom's prayer: "If I could get this eternal pressure off the boys they would turn in a good game; they are so nervous they miss 80 to 90 per cent of the crisp shots."

Last night the plowboys tasted defeat for the first time in four years. Strangely enough, San Angelo was the last team to beat them, in the last game of the 1933 season.

Australia Picks Davis Cup Team

SYDNEY, Australia. (AP)—Australia today named Jack Bromwich, Adrian Quist, L. A. Schwartz and Harry C. Hopman as its representatives in 1938 Davis Cup competition. Vivian McGrath and Jack Crawford, veterans of last year's squad, and Don Turnbull, doubles star, announced they would not be available.

Bromwich, ambidextrous 19-year-old star who beat the U. S. and Wimbledon champion, Don Budge, twice in recent exhibitions, and Quist were on the 1937 team that lost to the United States in the North American zone final.

'Forget It,' Says Jim Braddock

ARMSTRONG FLOORS WRIGHT IN THIRD FOR 31ST WIN

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Big corpulent Eddie Mead slumped one leg over the dressing room table and watched his pride, joy and bankroll, Henry Armstrong, the featherweight champion of the world, get into his street clothes.

Hustlin' Hank a few minutes before had disposed of his 31st consecutive foe, dusky, scrawny Chalky Wright, who is the toast of Los Angeles' Central avenue just after the war, and who was when Hurricane Hank is out of the city.

Armstrong knocked Wright out—they called it a technical kayo, however—in the same mechanical-y startling fashion of 30 other victories in the past year. This one took three rounds.

It was old stuff, yet refreshing, for most of the 10,400 who jammed the Olympic auditorium, and for big Eddie Mead. Perhaps that was why he drifted back almost 20 years, and when asked, declined to put Armstrong in a class by himself.

There was another Mead's book of greats, and he didn't mind naming him. He was Joe Lynch, who ruled the world's bantamweights just after the war, and who was one of Eddie's boys.

"Yessir, Joe was a great fighter," recounted Mead. "I won't say he was better than Hank, and I won't say Hank is better'n him. They were both champs."

"Joe was up to see me when I was in New York not long ago. He's a sheriff or something in upper New York. Brought me a watch I had pawned, oh, a long time ago when I was broke. I'd forgotten all about it. Joe's doing well. Great fighter, that boy. He and Hank both understand."

As for Armstrong, who long since put Mead and himself back into big money, besides adding another feather to Co-owner Al Johnson's nest, he has more fights coming up to handle. Al Citrino in San Francisco is next, Varlas Milling in Chicago follows, and then possibly a match in Dallas, Texas, for one of Mead's old-time ring friends, Bobby Burns, who used to be a topnotch fighter during the same years as Lynch. Later the outdoor season in the East, if not a major bout indoors before.

"Yep, great fighter, that boy. He just like Joe Lynch was a great bantam," mused Big Eddie.

Pennsylvania Has Young Grid Staff

PHILADELPHIA. (AP)—Youth has stepped into the driver's seat of the University of Pennsylvania's football machine.

The oldest of the four-man varsity staff is 36-year-old Rae Crowther. Head Coach George A. Munger, last year's Red and Blue freshman coach and successor to Harvey Harman, is 28 and his two newest assistants—Howard O'Neill and Paul G. Riblett—are both under 30.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Bryant Grant, pint-sized tennis star from Atlanta, moved against Vernon Marcum of Lakeland, Fla., in the Marjorie Club tournament, which was the first step in his campaign to show the tennis world his reduction to fourth place in national rankings was undeserved.

Bitsy polished off two Miamians yesterday and looked to the forthcoming finals, where it was probable he would meet Bobby Riggs, Chicago youngster ranked second nationally.

TWO CAGERS KILLED
BULLS GAP, Tenn. (AP)—A bus-automobile trailer collision late yesterday took the lives of two members of the undefeated Carson-Newman college basketball team: Roy Roberts, 22, Sevierville, Tenn., senior and star guard, and James Grissom, 19, Burnside, Ky., sophomore and substitute forward.

FARR REFUSES BOUT WITH MAXIE BAER

NEW YORK. (AP)—Tommy Farr's opinion of his fighting powers and Jim Braddock's retirement may give young Jimmy Adamick of Detroit, the chance he has been waiting for, a shot at the big money.

Farr, approached by Promoter Mike Jacobs yesterday for a bout with Max Baer, didn't seem interested. So Mike said he was "getting a little tired of Farr" and indicated that the Detroit youngster would be offered the bout unless Farr changed his mind.

"I'll give Adamick the chance and I'll make it worth his while, too," said Mike. "If he beats Baer I'll promise him an April match with the winner of the Joe Louis-Nathan Mann title bout."

The Welshman, beaten by Braddock in his last start, told newspaper men he definitely would not fight Baer. "I want either Braddock or Schmeling," said Tommy. "I can't see why I am called on to eliminate Baer just because Braddock has quit. If Schmeling wants another 'tune up' in this country, I'll meet him on a winner-take-all basis. Otherwise, I'm going back home."

Great Britain May Boycott 1940 Olympics

LONDON. (AP)—Sentiment in Great Britain against British representation at the Tokyo Olympic Games in 1940 is national in scope, says Lord Aberdare, who will represent Great Britain at the meeting of the International Olympic committee in Cairo in March.

Aberdare said a clear distinction should be made between the boycott of the Tokyo Olympics in 1936 and the movement against Tokyo. He pointed out that the Berlin boycott was confined to a small fraction while "resentment against Japan here is national, and, judging from United States reports, international."

The British Olympic committee last night discussed the apparent failure of Japanese officials to issue invitations for the Games and drafted instructions for Lord Aberdare.

Whether Great Britain will accept an invitation to the Games also was discussed.

"I don't think we will be prepared to make a statement of our views before the international meeting is held," Aberdare said. "But I doubt if we will be able to get support to finance sending a team to Tokyo even if the committee decides to send one."

There is no question of taking the games away from Tokyo, but, Aberdare added, "I believe true sportsmanship would indicate that Japan should put the question entirely in the hands of the international committee."

Investors Sought For Hollywood's New Ball Club

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The Hollywood baseball club, newly incorporated for $300,000, is looking for local investors, but finding interest scarce, it was admitted today.

William H. Arnold, representing Herbert Fleischacker, said the San Francisco banker, who now holds virtually all the stock, might even consider complete disposal of it to "the right local setup."

Just where the Hollywood Stars will play their Pacific Coast league games here this season is the chief question now. An option is understood to have been taken on property in the general neighborhood of Gilman stadium, which has been ruled out as a temporary home for the club.

Tustin Five Trims Downey, 30 to 23

Tuning up for a home game with San Juan Capistrano Friday night, Tustin's Tiller trimmed Downey's preps in basketball, 30-23, at Tustin, yesterday. The Tustin lineup: Vic Linker and Larry Monroy (2), forwards; Everett Winkler (6), center; Joe Kiersey (5) and Walt Linker (10), guards; Substitutions: Watanuki (2), Runnels (3), Osterman (2), Marshall.

BRUBAKER FIGHTS
OAKLAND. (AP)—Phil Brubaker, former Bible student from Dubuque, Calif., who a year ago was California's No. 1 heavyweight prospect, will stop off with Johnny Briggs of Duluth, Minn., in a 10-round fight here tonight.

FIGHTS

HOUSTON, Tex. — Al Bernard, 155, New York, outpointed Cowboy Owens, 158, Wichita Falls, (10).

LOS ANGELES.—Henry Armstrong, 130½, world's featherweight champion, stopped Chalky Wright, 128, Los Angeles (3), non-title.

NEW YORK.—Al Reid, 127, New York, outpointed Johnny DeFeo, 126½, New York (8).

Signs Contract

Joe Rodgers, Huntington Beach's veteran manager who had hinted retirement after the 1937 season, has signed his contract to lead the Oilers again this year.

RODGERS WILL LEAD OILERS

Instead of retiring, as hinted in some nightball circles, Joe (Little Napoleon) Rodgers will serve in a double capacity with the Huntington Beach Oilers in the National league this year.

The club's regular shortstop has signed his 1938 contract as manager, and as further recognition for his long service with the Oilers has been named president of the Huntington Beach commission to succeed Fred Grable.

"I am coming back strong this year with several new players, and promise the rest of the team that I am going to knock them over. Anaheim, as Southern California champions, will get my blasting," Joe remarked.

President Walter Wentz has called a meeting of National league managers tomorrow night at Garden Grove for an election of officers and discussion of new entries for the '38 season.

Picard, Cooper Top Field for $3000 Sacramento Open

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Henry Picard and Harry Cooper, two of golf's most consistent money winners, were in Sacramento today heading the vanguard of 15 prominent professionals who will compete for prize money in the $3000 Sacramento Open Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Ed Dudley won the tournament last year with a 273, 15 under par. Should present rains continue, par on the Sacramento municipal course, 6712 yards long, with some new traps and "dog-leg" holes, would be a hard nut for the professionals to crack.

GUS MANCUSO INVOLVED IN THREE DEALS

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK. (AP)—Based on the traditional relationship between smoke and fire, there's reason to believe that some of the National league baseball clubs, including the New York Giants, will engineer a player trade before long.

Ever since Bill Terry came to town for the baseball writers' dinner, a few days ago, trade talk has been floating around so thickly the experts figure there must be something underfoot. By sleuthing around hotel lobbies, watching the magnates and managers gather in huddle and separate again, and questioning all hands, enough facts have been unearthed to give rise to the following report.

1. The Giants and Reds have a deal on the fire involving Gus Mancuso, holdout Cincinnati catcher, and Ernie Lombardi, burly Cincinnati backstop. That seems to be fairly authentic, but there are several variations on the reasons why it hasn't been completed. One explanation is that Terry asked for a couple of young players for "farm" purposes along with Mancuso.

Another is that the final dickering concerned a trade with Mancuso and Wally Berger, hard-hitting but slowfooted outfielder, for Lombardi, Dee Moore and Harry Craft, a rookie fly chaser, and that General Manager Warren Giles of the Reds balked because Terry displayed too keen an interest in Craft.

2. The Giants may send Berger to Brooklyn, possibly along with Mancuso, a pitcher, or both, in exchange for Buddy Hassett, the Dodgers' young first baseman. In this connection there was talk of a possible three-way deal among the Giants, Dodgers and Reds, with Brooklyn getting one of Cincinnati's young pitchers.

3. The St. Louis Cardinals are angling for Gordon (Blimp) Phelps and Lippy Douchette of Brooklyn; no offers mentioned.

4. The Phillies may get into the trading with Dolph Camilli and Pitchers Claude Passeau and Bucky Walters as bait. President George Nugent of the Phils denied he would "break up a ball club" by trading all three.

5. The Giants offered the Cardinals a trade for either Stan Boragay, a former Brooklyn outfielder, and one other player, possibly Herb Bremer, rookie catcher, and got a negative answer.

The principal basis of all these reports comes from Terry's statement that he was willing to trade Mancuso, Berger and Camilli. Hank Leiber, another holdout. The Giants' manager further explained that Harry Danning was ready for the first-string catching job, and a club that had two first-stringers couldn't give either enough work. That seems to spell a hard-charging second-string man, otherwise Lombardi.

SHARPSHOOTING SANTA ANITA

By FRANK FISKE

They call it "the world's most beautiful race track" but to a lot of us it's going to stand out in the memory pictures as the place where bad horses suddenly get good and good horses get temperamental. At that, I don't recall ever seeing them run against a prettier back-ground since the chariot race in "Ben Hur." Ho, hum!

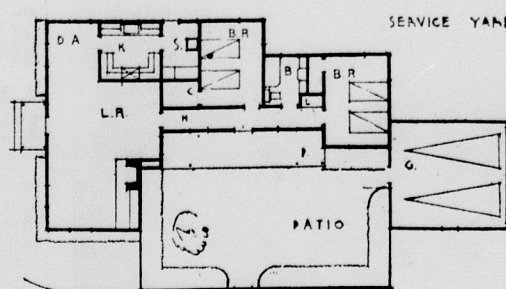

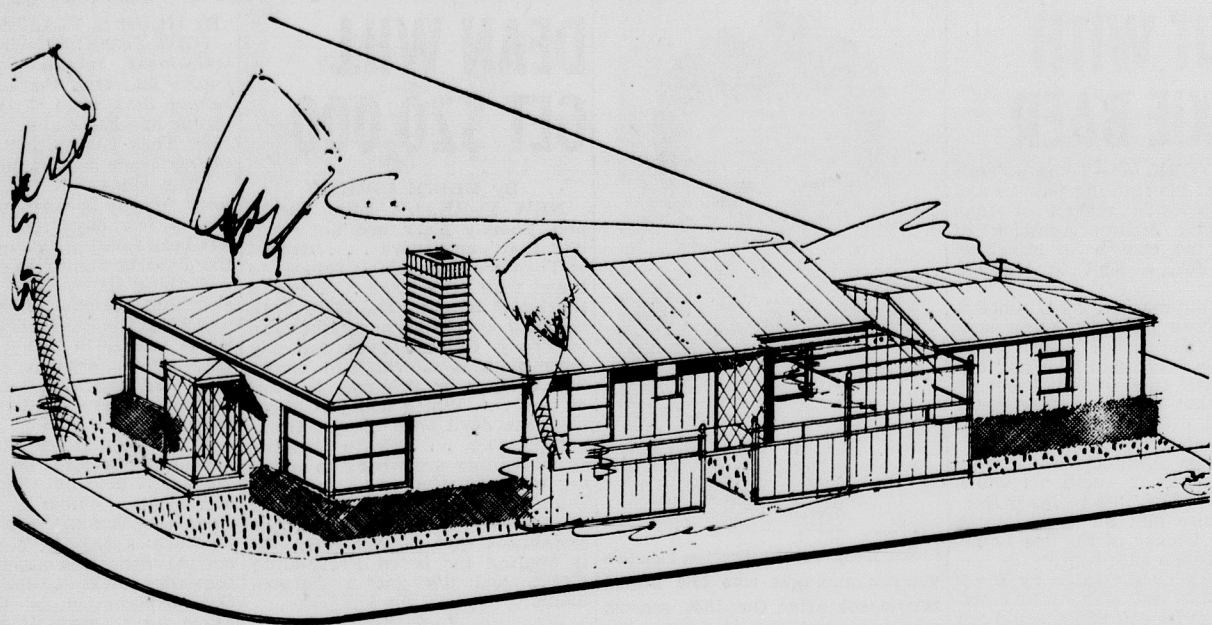

The Phantom showed up this morning, eplashed over with mud and wearing the sour expression of a handicapper who has been playing his own selections on the nose for the last week. He slithered up to the little rendezvous under the eucalyptus trees, handed me his list of guesses for today and went on his way, lugubriously singing the "Clocker's Lament."

"For years I have followed the horses
With stop watch and shovel and broom
And I would now be wearin' diamonds,
But I run out of money too soon!"

Here's what he laid out for the—

Gordon B. Findlay, one of the best known builders in the Newport Harbor area, was also commander of the West Newport Yacht Club. Mr. Findlay is regarded as one of the best builders in the county. In the past two years his company has built nearly a hundred homes.

F. H. A. Insured Mortgages

One of the greatest advantages of the Insured Mortgage system of the Federal Housing Administration is that a property financed under that plan need have but one mortgage and that a long-term one. The system eliminates refinancing charges on two or more short-term mortgages. It eliminates the uncertainty on the part of the home owner as to whether the mortgage can be renewed. It permits the borrower to know exactly just what he will have to pay each month during the life of the mortgage.

Because FHA Insured Mortgages usually do run for a long period, under the certain circumstances as long as twenty years, it is very necessary to take a far-sighted view of the security and of the factors which influence the preservation of that security. In a long period of time, therefore, the property must possess physical characteristics which will make for desirability and durability far into the future.

The minimum requirements of the FHA have been formulated to include the modest dwelling and the modest neighborhood. Comforting to those requirements or standards need not make building more expensive. On the other hand sound construction and good workmanship are required whether properties covered by insured mortgages are priced high or low.

Tile For Baths And Kitchens

Sub-Contractors, Inc., whose office and display rooms are at 208 Spurgeon, specialize in interior tile for kitchens and bathrooms. Tile is not only colorful, but is without doubt the most popular and practical wall covering for these two rooms.

A complete line of glass shower doors and incloses as well as finish hardware is sold by the firm. F. N. McCandless, manager of Sub-Contractors, Inc., offers a free estimating and design service for prospective homebuilders or those interested in remodeling their present home. An unusually interesting display of tile is on view at the company's showroom.

PRACTICAL DON'TS FOR HOME BUILDERS TO FOLLOW

Ten 1936 "don'ts" for the family which is building a home, to save them from pitfalls which reduce the rating of the house with the mortgage, are issued by the Society of Residential Appraisers. The decalogue deals with common mistakes which account for many new houses being given a lower loan valuation than the builder feels to be justified, or for their being turned down by the conservative lender of mortgage money.

1. Don't build too pretentious a house on a cheap lot or vice versa. The ratio of house to land value should tend toward not less than 3 to 1 and not more than 7 to 3 to 1, in order to qualify before the appraiser, and before the mortgagee, who depends upon the appraiser's conclusions. The society indicates that errors in one of these directions are common in boom periods of building and subdivision activity.

2. Don't put a squatty, low house on a low piece of ground, or a tall, thin house on the crest of a hill. In this connection it is suggested that where plans for the house have been drawn up by an architect for a site different from the one for which they are now being used, extreme care should be taken that they fit the new location. The same warning applies to "canned" architectural plans—see that they suit the topography of the land.

3. Don't put a large house on a small lot, nor set the house close to the street when you have a deep lot. Among the joys of home ownership are plenty of air, open space, some ground for children and for the indulgence of the owner's taste in landscaping and gardening. When the house takes up practically all of the lot, this great advantage of home ownership is lost at the outset.

4. Don't build a garage detached from the house, and by all means provide an entrance to the attached garage from the inside of the house, if building regulations permit. Make the garage large enough to house two cars.

5. Plan the interior first and then let the exterior fit the inside plan. Otherwise you may get a poorly laid out house, an uneconomical use of the space, with perhaps a small living room and an oversized dining room, which is at an inconvenient distance from the kitchen, too many bedrooms, with only one bathroom, and similar deductions from the desirability of the house for an average family.

6. Don't put cheap or out-of-date products and equipment in a house that is otherwise well built and modern. An example of this mistake is the placing of a bathtub with the old-fashioned leg base in a modern house. It is possible to save $100 on the plumbing and deprive yourself of $500 in value in the finished home.

7. Don't have non-matching exteriors and interiors, as to quality of materials. It costs far more to repair inconsistencies of this kind after they have been built into the house than to avoid them in the beginning.

Permutit System Sold By Whitesides

The Whitesides Water Softener, 1200 North Main, are distributors and sales agents for the Permutit Water Softener. The Permutit Water Softener is rated as one of the best ever built and comes in sizes and prices to fit every household. Local Plumbing Firm Growing

Locally owned the Pacific Plumbing company is playing an active part in the building industry of Santa Ana and Orange county. Formerly a branch of an outside plumbing firm, the company now is owned by Henry Schleuter and Herb Adams, both of whom have conducted a plumbing business in Santa Ana for the past eight years.

Some of the larger buildings in which the firm has had charge of plumbing installations are: New Owl Drug store, F. W. Woolworth remodeling, remodeling of the Hopkins building, two buildings at the Santa Ana High school, Willard Junior High school gymnasium, machine shop at the Lathrop Junior High school, Newport Beach Grammar school, and the tubercular ward at the Orange County hospital.

At this time the company has under construction the plumbing installation for Huntington Beach High school and the Oceanside-Carlsbad High school.

Among the larger Orange county homes in which the company has installed plumbing are: Elmer E. Nichols, near Garden Grove; Mrs. George Bunke, Orange, and F. A. Storey, Victoria drive.

In addition to expert plumbing work the company operates a fully equipped sheet metal shop and is agent for Electrolux gas refrigerators, Pacific gas furnaces and a complete line of water heaters and softeners.

It's not a home till it's planted. Home owners are becoming more conscious of the fact that landscaping and planting the proper trees and shrubs lends charm and beauty as a setting for their home. The Santa Ana Nurseries, of which Walter S. Schwandt is the head, employs a staff of skilled and trained experts in landscaping to help the home owner in decorating his lot or estate.

It is well worth a visit to the nursery at 1435 South Main, to see the giant pantries that Mr. Schwandt specializes in. All flowering plants and shrubs that are suited to the locality are raised and sold by the Santa Ana Nurseries.

A free consultation service is available for home owners who wish to beautify the grounds of their home. Money invested in the proper shrubs and trees is a splendid investment, as they enhance the value of the property.

Roofing Firm Offers 24-Hour Service

Brotherhood Of Nations Urged

Brilliant Woman Is Ebell Speaker on Latin America

Challenging the youth of North America to wake up to the possibilities of close-knit brotherhood with Latin America, Senora Elvira de Borja, wife of a former consul-general from Ecuador to Seattle and San Francisco, was guest speaker at last night's monthly session of Junior Ebell.

Brilliant-eyed, dark haired, and petite, she captivated her audience of more than 125 young matrons with a fascinating combination of intellectual superiority and charming naivete, with the whole set off by the quirky accent that has not been dispelled by years of schooling in Switzerland, at the Sorbonne, at the University of Madrid, or by her residence of several years in the United States.

Although obviously ardent propaganda, Senora Borja's address was factual and practical enough to stimulate each of her hearers with the desire to learn more of our southern neighbors. She outlined briefly the method of education and upbringing of the average Latin-American girl as compared to that of the North American, and stressed the great desire of the former to have the advantages of training that we have here.

She spoke, too, of the differences of standards and mode of living, and of the similarities, however, that exist in their civilizations and upper classes. Of their universities she was enthusiastic, and of the secondary and primary schools in the Pacific coast countries she was high in praise, stating only that there were not enough of them as yet. As for political difficulties, she dismissed them as not too significant upon the lives of the people, that they would be overcome as modern progress came to each country.

"There are 80,000,000 people in South America, along the coast," she wound up, "with more than half of them eager to have your culture and your products brought to them."

"They want American girls to teach them English, not the German girls they have there teaching the English now. They want to buy American refrigerators, radios, vacuum cleaners, clothes, and so on, instead of giving 10 per cent of their income to Germany, 10 per cent to Japan, 10 per cent to other European countries, and but 10 per cent to the United States."

"If North American youth would but realize it, there is the pioneering prospect of the old gold rush days in our South American countries, and she wound up by saying that America does not have to be conquered. It is yours for the asking!"

Senora Borja interpolated her stirring message with many humorous comparisons between the sexes and personalities of the two continents. She was accompanied from Los Angeles, where she is now teaching at Cumstock school, by her daughter Claudia, who will appear with her on a program for Senior Ebell Feb. 28.

She was introduced by Mrs. Robert Guild, program chairman, who followed by Mrs. Albert Harvey, president, to the platform. At a business meeting conducted by Mrs. Harvey the outstanding feature was appointment of Mrs. C. Harold Dale to the general chairmanship of the annual Junior Ebell Fashion Show, which will be given this year March 19.

Plans for the affair are already under way, for it is Junior Ebell's biggest annual undertaking, and proceeds go to the group's student loan fund.

Committee chairmen named to start action by Mrs. Dale were Mrs. Crawford Hale, models; Mrs. Vanley Anderson, decorations; Mrs. Quentin Matzen, tickets; Mrs. Fred Burlew, food; Mrs. E. Lee Smith, tables; Mrs. C. L. Davidson, tallies; Miss Helen Wieseman, prizes; Miss Claude Brakelie, programs; and Mrs. William Fritcher, publicity.

Last night's interesting meeting was concluded with a refreshment course, with Mrs. Harvey and Mrs. Don Park, a past president, presiding behind the tea and coffee trays. The table was most attractive, with a huge rectangular mirror plate surrounded by nosegays of red and white carnations with valentine frills, with little silver ships sailing the mirror-lake, and with tall red tapers and valentine refreshments. Mrs. Thomas Rhoads, arranged the pretty effect, and assisting Mrs. Walter Bacon on the refreshment committee were Mrs. Don Plum, Mrs. Don Harwood, Mrs. Hans Wahlberg, Mrs. Bruce Anderson, Miss Natalie Neff, and Mrs. Rhoads.

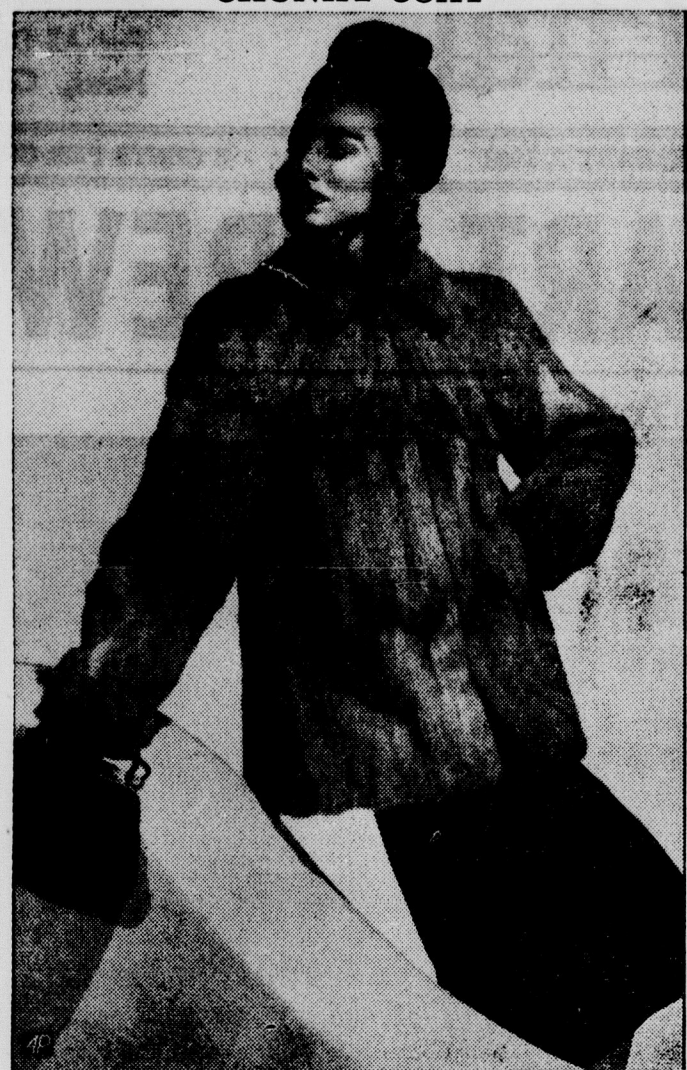

MUSICAL ARTS SUPPER AFTER CONCERT

Club business was of chief importance last evening when members of the Musical Arts club met in the Visel studios following an executive board session earlier in the evening.

Mrs. J. Leslie Steffenson conducted both meetings and announced plans for an after-concert supper to be held at Daniger's cafe on Friday evening to compliment Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson. Mrs. Emil Wagner, social chairman, and her committee are planning the event, and each member will be allowed to bring one guest.

Dainty refreshments were served from a tea table prettily appointed with a low bowl of white flowers flanked by creamy white tapers. On the hostess committee for the evening were Mrs. Pearl Livesey, Mrs. Don Mosley and Miss Kathryn Bude.

CHUNKY COAT

The "chunky coat," good for both town and country wear, is a star in winter fur fashions. This one of Russian squirrel is fashioned with a trim high collar and straight sleeves. It is worn with a black wool frock and antelope hat, gloves and bag.

T-I-D-B-I-T-S..

By DR. MARY E. WRIGHT

The Loyal Kings will move into their lovely new home on North Park boulevard late this week. The house is early American in architecture, and they have lovely antique furniture and many heirlooms which are fitting for its spacious and homey rooms. Their nearest neighbors are Mrs. Charles Spicer, the A. I. Melenthins, the W. D. Ranneys, and Mrs. Ruby Wright.

Met a charming young matron this week who had come from Texas to join her husband, who is established in a furniture store here. Her name is Dorothy McGovern, and is the type, if looks count, who will be an asset to the younger society of Santa Ana. She looked charming in light grey tweed trimmed with astrachan and matching cap.

Norman and Donald Watson came home to Yorba street today for midwinter vacation for Pomona college. Norman is clever at dramatics, and assisted in staging Shakespearean plays at Pasadena Playhouse last year, while Donald is a talented pianist.

Does Jimmie Utt remember when he and Felton Browning drove to Los Angeles in Mr. Ed Utt's old Chalmers car, about 20 years ago?

When they reached the first intersection they found their clutch was useless and the engine had to be killed to stop the car. At each succeeding stop Felton had to start with a crank, while Jimmie drove.

Wouldn't it have been fun to watch that spectacular drive down Broadway made by future Representative Utt and future President of the Tustin Fruit Growers' association, Browning?

That's one joke on Jimmie that Joel Ogle didn't know.

Saw Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Yost at the theater lately and remembered many years ago when he was crowned and genial host at one of the largest playhouses in town.

Met three very attractively gowned women lately, all in a row. One was Mrs. Laura Troxal, wearing bright blue coat, and broad-brimmed black hat with touches of blue. Next was Mrs. Murray Van der Brug, dressed in brown, braided in self-color, good with her brunet complexion. Third was Clara Louise Forman, acting county librarian, who was charming in gold color with a black lace blouse.

Lovely spring flowers in such gorgeous variety! Florists' windows are full of beautiful blossoms, in one lovely fruit sprays, in another golden daffodils, and in another, fragrant spikes of stock, scenting the entire store.

The smart rust colored tweed suit and cap worn by Mrs. Rose Doble one day lately when she was shopping in town with her sister, Mrs. Charles Twist, made me realize how instinctively England comes to mind when we speak of tweed—She's a trim little Englishwoman and greatly enjoys contrast, so Mrs. Twist has asked friends to drop in often for an informal friendly game.

A very remarkable hollyhock plant has grown in the yard of Mrs. Jennie S. Fleming, 625 East Chestnut street. Like Jack's beanstalk, it grew and grew—up to 18 feet, with a five-inch thick stalk, and with myriads of lovely pink blossoms—until last week's desert wind blew it down, to Mrs. Fleming's great regret. The seed was brought here from Newcastle, Pa.

Caught Mr. and Mrs. George Baker at the end of a gala day. Thursday. After a trip to Los Angeles they were dining at Daniger's, where wearing one of the new scoop bonnets, they planned to take in a show before returning

Birthday Is Celebrated By Club

Thirty-eight years of increased service to the community, of increased understanding of world problems, and of increased enjoyment and benefit for each individual member were fittingly observed yesterday afternoon when the Woman's club of Santa Ana celebrated its annual birthday dinner.

Spring was ushered in for the meeting with colorful decorations throughout the hall, which was beautifully decked to represent a garden theme. Ferns, ivy, and pepper bushes had been garlanded about the walls, and potted palms completed the out-of-doors motif.

At one end of the hall, a patio scene was depicted with garden furniture, white picket fence, and jars of seasonal flowers.

Club colors of orchid and white were well represented in the table decorations, with slim orchid tapers rising from white rosebud holders. Centering each of the branching tables was a dainty bouquet of orchid and white sweet peas and white hyacinths. At the speakers' table was a bouquet of white roses, the club's flower, and sweet peas.

"Look toward the rising sun" was the theme chosen for the day's program, and emphasized through speeches and decorations. Following this motif were dillies, table arrangements, and favors of quaint candy favors at each plate.

Mrs. David A. Fraser, president of the Southern district of the California federation, was an honored guest at the dinner and later delivered the featured address. She detailed several phases in the history of woman's club and listed present day problems which the federation is attempting to help solve.

Mrs. R. A. McMahon, president of the local club, presided at the session, introducing the special guests, including Mrs. E. B. Smith of Anaheim, district and county chairman of Bible literature; Mrs. R. G. Miller of Huntington Beach, county federation president; and Mrs. W. S. Thomson of Tustin, president of Santa Ana Ebell society.

A special courtesy was the presentation of lovely sweet pea corsages to the hostess committee, members of the executive board, and honored guests during the afternoon.

Mrs. McMahon wore a lovely orange gardenias.

Mrs. Charles Clark, decoration chairman, was in charge of all floral arrangements and announced her assistants for the delightful party.

Past presidents present for the dinner and introduced included Mrs. M. F. Kryhl, Mrs. James C. Clark, Dr. Evaline Peo, Mrs. Sally Williams, Mrs. W. H. Kuhn, Mrs. Anna Gale, Mrs. J. D. Watkins, Mrs. William Wells, Mrs. R. G. Carman, Mrs. Mary Stanley, Mrs. E. M. Jycott, and Mrs. F. A. Martin.

Other introductions by Mrs. Waycott included members of her executive board, officers, and committee chairmen. These were Mrs. Earl Leach, Mrs. P. Jacoby, Mrs. E. Waycott, Mrs. F. A. Martin, Mrs. R. G. Carman, Mrs. Agnes Wimbush, Mrs. R. J. Grother, Mrs. C. W. Walter, Mrs. C. H. Stanley, Mrs. William Kuhn, Mrs. Martha Linsendard, Mrs. Glen Hulse, Mrs. R. E. Carman, Mrs. E. M. Jycott, and Mrs. F. A. Martin.

In accordance with the program's theme, a novel musical program was presented by Miss Ruth Kikuchi, Miss Kimi Matsuda, and Noriko Masuda, all of Huntington Beach.

VALENTINE MOTIF USED BY HOSTESS

Vivid red ranunculi emphasized a pretty Valentine motif when Mrs. Rose Havelly entertained at a luncheon party this week. Her guests went first to the Doris Kathryn tearoom where they had their places marked with heart-shaped, lady cards.

Later they accompanied Mrs. Havelly to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Bond on Victoria drive, where they spent an enjoyable afternoon at needlework, violin and piano music played by little Beverly Bond and Charlotte Stafford added to their pleasure.

Guests of Mrs. Havelly were Mrs. William J. Stauffer, Mrs. W. F. Kistinger, Mrs. Warren Ege, Mrs. Harry Beuter, Mrs. C. C. Fuller, Mrs. Rosa Fuller, Mrs. George W. Bond, Mrs. J. D. Watkins, Mrs. E. C. Franson, Mrs. Milo Daughters, Mrs. John Bower, Mrs. Adelaide Lowe, Mrs. Guy Griggs, Mrs. John Cozad, and Mrs. Clarence Bond.

TWO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARIES

Mrs. Nelson Visel and Mrs. Newell Moore celebrated their joint birthday anniversaries yesterday with a trio of close friends at luncheon at Daniger's. Their table was lovely with a bowl of yellow ranunculi and tapers.

Individual candle-light cakes formed the dessert course, with a birthday song sung by Grace Rainey as she served them. Eaten was a gardenia corsage presented by Mrs. James Anderson. In addition to Mrs. Anderson their guests were Mrs. Thelma Connolly and Mrs. Orville Northrup.

ALPHA CHIS MEET SATURDAY

Alpha Chi Omega alumnae of Orange county are being called together for a social meeting and get-together this coming Saturday afternoon.

The affair will be a 12-30 luncheon at Daniger's, with no hostess. All alumnae are cordially invited to attend.

Local Artists Featured in Matinee

A bevy of attractive and talented Santa Ana misses will make their appearance in a special matinee program at Barker Brothers' store in Los Angeles tomorrow afternoon when the Visel Ensemble will be featured at that weekly event.

Under the direction of Holly Visel, the group will present a unique and specially arranged program that will feature various entertaining numbers. The girls, who include Lois Newbold, Ruth Townsend, Ann Wetherell, Marjorie Tubach, Audrey Hancock, Betty Jane Ward, Margaret Davies and Marjorie Sall, are all particularly attractive in appearance, and are delightful in their changes of costume with each of the ensemble numbers, as well as in the solos than many of them present.

Their numbers together and individually will be offset by baritone solos by Bruce Suel, popular junior college baritone; by dances by Yuriko, young Japanese artist; by dances of Miss Louise Holdsworth, Fullerton jaycee co-ed, and by dramatic readings and a one-act play presented by Miss Betty Jane Moore.

Many of the ensemble selections are semi-classical favorites, with one particularly lovely grouping of Gilbert and Sullivan songs from the "Mikado." For this they will wear beautiful kimonos lent them by Mrs. A. J. Lasby, Mrs. Emily Munro and Mrs. Jesse Wolfe, all of Santa Ana. Their other costumes are formal afternoon dresses of taffeta especially designed for them by Thelma Connolly. Their rich shades of lilac, rose and royal blue are combined in truly French effect.

Singers in the group are private voice students of Holly Visel, while the entire ensemble is directed and accompanied by Ruth Armstrong. Miss Moore is a pupil of Lois Rees Auer, and the dancers are pupils of Dorothy Lyndall, while dances for the "Mikado" group were arranged by Margaret Rees.

BETROTHAL IS REVEALED AT BREAKFAST

Forthcoming nuptials of Miss Maxine Struck and Raymond Born of Tustin were predicted Sunday morning when the mothers of the betrothed pair joined to entertain a group of friends at breakfast in the Max Struck home at 1208 South Parton street.

The guests were seated at small tables for the early meal. Dainty pink ribbons led to printed cards hidden in the floral centerpieces, with the inscription Maxine and Raymond, 1938. Bouquets of pink sweet peas and white hyacinths were used throughout the rooms and as table centerpieces.

Mrs. Walter Born, mother of the groom-elect, joined Mrs. Max Struck in hosting the party. They were assisted by Miss Pauline Struck, Mrs. Walter Wurster, and Mrs. O. K. Lane.

The hours of the party were spent informally in chatting. Miss Struck is a graduate of Santa Ana schools through the junior college, where she was member of the Young People's club. She has been working for the telephone company for the past year.

Raymond Born is a graduate of Santa Ana High school, and is employed by the Santa Ana Motor Parts company. The young couple will make their home in Santa Ana following the nuptials.

Guests bidden to the pretty party were Mrs. Edwin Magill of Burbank, Mrs. Milton Stellar of Oakland, Miss Marian Bradley, Miss Jeanne House, Mrs. Winston Smith of Orange, Miss Dorothy Dixon, Miss Ethel Manning, Miss Marjorie Wender, Miss Phyllis Farquhar, Miss Justine Madden, Miss Dorothy Nielson, Miss Bernadine Helberg, Mrs. Bernice Lombard, Miss LaFaye Morris, Miss Bernice Pomeroy, Mrs. Emma Fowler, Mrs. Jerry Lowell, Miss Ruth Wagner, and Mrs. Linden Phillips.

GUSTLIN WINS FIRST PRIZE IN CONTEST

High honors were accorded to Clarence Gustlin, prominent local musician, when he appeared as guest artist at two concerts presented before the members of 1000 People of Orange, Wednesday and Thursday at the Fort McArthur Symphony orchestra.

Robert Resta directed the orchestra, which is part of a movement to start a permanent symphonic organization in the coast town.

Highlight on the program was a composition contest, at which Mr. Gustlin won first prize for his piano arrangement of a concert waltz by DiLallo, and also played a "Concert Paraphrase" by Liszt. Mrs. William Darsie, pupil of Gustlin, won second prize with her playing of her own composition, "Musical Moods."

Mr. and Mrs. Gustlin were guests of the Rev. and Mrs. William Darsie, Wednesday, and of Miss Lena Catherine Shepard, former Santa Ana director of music, on Thursday.

INJURED MAN IS VISITED

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Baker and Claire and Norma Baker, and Mrs. Baker's sister, Mrs. Jack May of Orange, went to the Coalinga hospital to visit W. E. Clement, father of the two ladies, who was so seriously burned in an explosion a few weeks ago.

He will be at home in Orange after another week. Mrs. Clement has been at his bedside since the accident.

BLONDE CURLS

Here is something smooth in coiffures for blondes—supplanting the froth of curls that used to cover the nape of the neck. It won a first prize at the recent New York convention of the National Hairdressers' association.

'Oh, Well' Proves He's Real Man By Human Answer to Contributor's Interest

So fantastic are some of the letters which find their way to my desk that I sometimes wonder if they are merely brain children!

I must frankly admit that I pondered thus over the letter by a bachelor who signed himself, "Oh, Well." However, it brought loads of replies from my readers. Some sympathized, others criticized, and such as he described himself, sitting by his fireside alone, drinking coffee by himself, smoking in solitude and reflecting on the way of life and people.

So many letters arrived that I asked Mr. "Oh, Well," if he wouldn't send his name and address in strictest confidence that he might get the full benefit of all this reader interest. His answer to my request proved his sincerity and I again breathe a sigh of relief that he is a real, not an imaginary, character. An excerpt of his letter follows:

Dear Miss Stoddard: I read your column last evening and am interested in seeing the other answers to my letter which you so kindly printed about a week ago. I would appreciate your further kindness in sending them to me.

When I wrote my first letter during the holidays I had no idea of promoting more than an exchange of viewpoints with some of your readers, but their generosity interests me.

Perhaps I will again offer for your consideration another letter from the "Oh, Well" club. I find your problems. I find your column might interest and believe you have done a lot of good to perplexed humans. Sincerely,

OH, WELL.

Thank you for the confidence you have placed in me. I shall not reveal your identity to anyone. The letters from my readers, who were interested in meeting you, or sending some message on to you, will be forwarded to you.

By the way, we have a letter in the morning mail from a young mother, who would like your opinion on her perplexity. How about it?

Dear Miss Stoddard: I have been a silent reader of your page for some time and enjoyed the different letters so much. I always thought I could manage my own affairs—still think so, but believe it helps a lot to hear the opinions of others.

Several years ago my husband died, leaving me with two small boys. All these years (and they seem like seven times seven) I have struggled on, doing my best trying to be a companion and a real mother to them. But as they get older I find it harder. Many of my friends have told me I should marry again. I feel like I could never do that. Yet, I know boys should be in the company of men more than mine are. I am wondering if I am cheating my boys by trying to bring them up by myself.

What you think?

And may I ask if there are any men who have a heart big enough to be a real father to another man's son? I have always thought not. I should appreciate right-from-the-shoulder answers from men. I notice that many of them must read your column because many of them write to you. For instance, I wonder what that chap "Mr. O. Well" would say? He seems to sit by his fireside a lot alone and muse, mostly over his own fate. It might get him out of his moods if he should try to put himself in my shoes and figure out what he would do if he were trying to be both father and mother to two boys. Thanks.

STILL WONDERING.

Maximum benefit payable under the Texas unemployment compensation act is $15 a week for 16 weeks in one year.

Visitors From China Feted At Tea

Delightful with its combination of true American hospitality and beautiful Oriental decorations was the formal tea yesterday at which Miss Lila Minter and Mrs. Warren Brakeman entertained to compliment Miss Viola Hill, former local girl who has taught in China for the past 22 years.

Guests at the affair were former school-friends of the honoree, teachers, neighbors, and members of the J. O. C. class of the First Baptist church of which she has been a member for a long time.

A Chinese motif was carried out in every detail by the two hostesses, each of whom wore a colorful Chinese robe. Delicate figurines and spring blossoms were arranged in Oriental manner on the handsome tea-table, over which Mrs. M. M. Holmes and Mrs. Harold Hopkins presided.

All the charming matrons who assisted Miss Minter and Mrs. Brakeman in their pleasant duties had conformed to the theme of the affair, and wore Chinese costumes of varying colors and design, making a particularly beautiful effect throughout the spacious home.

Mrs. W. H. Harrison and Mrs. R. E. Coulter acted as special dining-room hostesses, while Mrs. Albert Hill, Mrs. H. E. O'wings, Mrs. L. R. Stearns, and Mrs. Eugene McBurney assisted in serving. Assisting in other rooms and in receiving the guests were Miss Gladys Minor, Mrs. Charles Nalle, Mrs. W. A. Adkinson, and Mrs. E. A. Bell.

A fitting close to the happy reunion of old friends and new was the display of dozens of Chinese treasures collected by Miss Hill in her pleasant residence in the Orient. Her sister, Mrs. W. B. Lockett, assisted in showing the lovely souvenirs to each guest, and each was presented with an exquisite little memento, a tiny handmade animal in the Chinese fashion, to take home with her.

HARMONY CLUB PLANS DESSERT BRIDGE PARTY

Plans for a public dessert bridge to be sponsored by Harmony Bridge club in the Masonic temple on Tuesday, Feb. 15, were completed yesterday afternoon when members met for a business session in the temple after a luncheon at the Rossmore cafe.

Tentative plans were also discussed for a rummage sale to be held in March. Hostesses for the next luncheon meeting, scheduled for March 1, will be Mrs. Nellie Young and Mrs. Laura Keseman.

Twenty members of the club were entertained yesterday at luncheon by Mrs. Lillian Dawson and Mrs. Effie Neuschwander. At the close of the bridge session, prizes were awarded to Mrs. Winnie Dean and Mrs. Lillian Dawson for contract and to Mrs. Rose Chast and Mrs. Pearl Lyman for auction.

NEWPORT EBELL VALENTINE TEA PLANNED

Members and friends of the Newport Beach Ebell club are anticipating a delightful program and party tomorrow afternoon at their regular meeting.

A Valentine tea will be served at the conclusion of the affair with Mrs. W. W. Crozier, Mrs. H. C. Sloan and Mrs. George Conklin as hostesses.

On the enjoyable program planned will be original monologues by Lorena Hinchaw, and violin selections by Charlotte Stafford with Ann Ulfeth accompanying her.

MONTANAN ENDS VISIT

J. E. (Zipper) Shea of Butte, Montana, left Monday for San Francisco after spending the past fortnight here as guest of Chester Dietler.

During his visit in the Southland he attended many civic club meetings and was generally feted. He was guest of honor at a dinner party given one evening by Jim Murphy, Ernest Vosskuhl, Riley Huber, Clyde Ashen, George Ravenkamp, Karl Klatt, and P. C. Dietler.

JEFFERSON P-T-A.

Both Jefferson and Hoover Parent-Teacher associations will meet tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at Hoover school to celebrate their annual Founder's day program. Mrs. C. H. Hollis has called a meeting of the Jefferson executive board at 1:30 p. m. in Jefferson school.

VETERAN REBEKAHS

Veteran Rebekahs will serve a noon dinner Friday at I.O.O.F. hall before the group's regular meeting, which will follow in the dining room.

GOLDEN STATE

Golden State luncheon club will meet Friday for a pot-luck luncheon at the home of Mrs. Viola Underwood, 413 Russell street. Each member is to bring a Valentine.

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

LIGHTS! SOUND! ROLL 'EM!

A FEW MINUTES LATER...

TROOPER, THAT WAS A GREAT BIT OF BUSINESS! YOU WERE GRAND!

OH, I'M GLAD IT WAS ALL RIGHT, JEFF. NOW I CAN GET INTO SOME DRY CLOTHES. I'M BEGINNING TO SHIVER!

I MAKE THE DECISIONS AROUND HERE—NOT ME GAYLORD. THAT SCENE WILL HAVE TO BE PLAYED OVER... IT WAS TERRIBLE!

BUT—EE-YES, MR. TEN-TAKE...

William Gibbs McAdoo, senator from California, (right) while fishing with Capt. Jack Brophy off the coast of Florida, hears a yarn that packs a rib-tickling spark if one can judge from his expression.

Orange Surplus Sale Planned

CHICAGO, (AP)—The National Association of the Food Stores chains and Orange Growers of California, Florida and Texas pushed plans for a nation-wide campaign to market an estimated 1938 orange surplus of more than 12,000 cars.

The association announced three dates—Feb. 24, March 24 and April 21—had been designed to carry the campaign to the consumer through newspaper advertising and special promotion in approximately 60,000 retail food stores.

The association said the orange crop movement up to Jan. 8, 1938, was 32,000 cars. The balance to be sold, as of Jan. 14, the group reported, was 107,700 cars, of which an estimated 12,000 was considered surplus.

Only 690 passengers and crew members of 2207 aboard the Titanic were saved.
